Searchers Continue Hunt For Earthquake Victims

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—A big force of searchers moves back into the still-shaking earthquake area of southwestern Montana today to renew a perilous hunt for more victims.

Landslides are raining rocks and dirt down the mountain slopes.

The ground parties will search above and below Hebgen Dam, focal point of the hardest hit area in Monday night's shocks.

Searching crews are made up of men from the Civil Defense organization, sheriff's office, U.S. Forest Service and volunteers.

They said they would not attempt to dig into the 50-million-ton landslide below Hebgen Dam until the comparatively slight tremors subside.

Bodies of eight quake victims have been recovered from the devastated mountains and canyons. Reports from survivors indicate the toll may rise to 12. They told of seeing a car with a man and a woman and a crippled boy buried by an avalanche.

A woman reported by Sheriff Donald Skerritt to be missing and presumed drowned was found alive Wednesday night. Grace Miller, about 60, whose lakeside home was washed away in a wave of water propelled by a landslide, had walked 15 miles to a ranch.

Coroner Charles E. Raper says he believes the body of Mrs. Thomas Stowe of Sandy, Utah, is in the Madison River. He reported the family car and her belongings have been found in the stream. Her husband was killed.

Officials have said they believe more bodies may be found by digging into the landslides and probing Hebgen Lake and the Madison River.

Skindivers are planning to go into the lake when the muddy water clears. They will check a report that two persons drowned in a car submerged in dirt and water.

All of the known survivors—about 300—have been moved out of the quake area. Some roads, buckled and twisted by the quake, have been made passable by the use of bulldozers.

Many highways in the western part of Yellowstone National Park were blocked by landslides and the damage there was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

'U. S. Report Backs Us,' Both Steel, Union Claim

Ohio's Labor Picture Seen As 'Darker'

In Midst Of Steel Strike, Many Other Disputes Break Out

By The Associated Press

Ohio, caught up in the midst of the steel strike, is being harrassed by a swarm of other labor-management disputes.

Nearly 2,500 workers, not including the steelworkers, are idled by strikes and another 10,500 threaten walkouts in a variety of industries.

One major strike, however, ended Wednesday and another showed signs of concluding.

The wildcat strike at Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp. at Newark came to a halt only 20 minutes before the management's "return to work or be dismissed" deadline.

Nearly 75 per cent of the 2,500 workers walked out Monday when some workers protested increased incentive rate standards.

Paul Welsh, plant manager, told striking Glass Bottle Blower Assn. members that they were violating a "no-strike" agreement in their contract.

Police, requested by management, stood by as the workers voted by secret ballot 333-271 to return to work. A voice vote earlier had favored continuance of the walkout.

At Marion, the unauthorized work stoppage at the Pollak Steel Co. showed promise of ending. Most of the plant's 435 workers began walking out Tuesday night.

Following a talk by an international representative from the United Steelworkers Union, about 100 employes returned for Wednesday's afternoon shift.

Plant manager E. J. Baxter said the walkout apparently was prompted by disciplinary action against an employe.

But elsewhere the picture was not so hopeful.

The Natural Gas Workers Union voted Wednesday night by a 2-1 margin to strike against the East Ohio Gas Co. Union president John Nagle said the effective date for the walkout would be set Saturday. It involves a reported 2,500 workers in nine northeastern Ohio cities.

Nearly 8,000 workers at Timken Roller Bearing Co. plants in Canton, Columbus, Wooster and Mount Vernon also threaten a strike.

The company said negotiators for the United Steelworkers have turned down a proposal to extend its collective bargaining contract for three years. Canton and Columbus locals have voted to strike if a new agreement is not reached by Sunday midnight. The contract expires Monday.

Other strike areas include:

Cincinnati—Some 200 members of the reinforced concrete workers union have been on strike since July 9 seeking a pay boost.

Dayton—About 550 workers at two plants are idle. At Monsanto Chemical Co.'s Mound Laboratory about 400 workers are out over differences in a new contract. And at the Joyce-Cridland Co., makers of hydraulic lifts, about 150 workers are striking over fringe benefits.

Green Camp near Marion—Some 180 Goodrich Rubber Co. workers are striking after talks failed to produce any agreement on a supplemental contract.

Springfield — Some 400 United Auto Workers at the Bauer Brothers Co., a firm that makes paper and pulp machinery, have been off the job since their old contract expired Aug. 1.

Cleveland—Some 800 members of the International Assn. of Machinists have been on strike at the Jack & Heintz Co. for 110 days.

Government Sticks To Hands Off Policy In Revealing Facts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Striking steelworkers and the steel industry both claimed today that a new government report bolsters their positions.

Maintaining its hands off policy in the 37 day old steel strike, the government Wednesday released figures showing that steel profits, prices and wages have been going up for years.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell made public the 4,000-word background report on the steel dispute. He said neither side has been doing any intensive bargaining and urged greater efforts until a settlement is reached.

But Mitchell declined to make any recommendations on where there should be some backing down in the deadlocked negotiations—and which side should do the retreating.

"There are no conclusions drawn (from the report)," he said. "The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor."

However, he made it clear that the public has an interest in the dispute which each week is costing 300 million dollars worth of production and 70 million dollars in wages.

Mitchell told several hundred newsmen at a news conference that the effect of the strike so far has not been serious from a national standpoint.

But a national emergency might result if the strike is not settled by the latter part of September or early October, he said in reply to a question.

Management and union spokesmen lost no time in commenting on Mitchell's report.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the steel industry, said the report shows steel wages have put steelworkers "at the top of the list." Increases in employment costs have exceeded increases in output per man hour, Cooper said, thereby forcing up steel prices. He said the increase of output per man hour in steel was lower than in the national economy as a whole.

Cooper said the report "shows also that steel profits as a return on investment have consistently lagged behind those in other industries—even before taking account of the necessity for making up large deficiencies in depreciation allowances."

David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, said Mitchell's report "presents a positive contribution to acquaint the American people with the facts of the tremendous productivity record achieved in the steel industry and the overwhelming ability of the steel industry to share a portion of such gains with the public, industry workers and stockholders of the industry.

"It documents the soundness and equity of the position of the steelworkers union in the controversy with the steel industry."

Negotiations still are under way in New York, but there have been no indications of progress.

4% Sales Tax Is Passed In Pennsylvania

May Go Into Effect Today; Governor's Signature Awaited

HARRISBURG — The four per cent sales tax to raise another $148,500,000 in revenue was passed Wednesday night by the Senate and sent the measure back to the House for concurrence in amendments.

A session of the House was scheduled for noon today by House Speaker Hiran G. Andrews, Johnstown Democrat. The concurrences were expected to go through without much trouble.

The bill then will go to Gov. David L. Lawrence. If he signs it upon receipt the four per cent tax rate will become effective immediately

The bill not only raises the sales tax rate for the second time in this session of the General Assembly, but again expands its application. Dry cleaning and laundry bills, liquor and beer purchased from state stores and beer distributors, soft drinks purchased from distributors, and automobile inspection charges will be subject to the levy.

The first penny of the new tax will apply to a purchase or service charge ranging between 11 and 25 cents. The tax will progress a penny for each additional 25 cents.

Earlier in the day the tax measure had fallen by a vote of 18 to 28. But five hours later, after an afternoon of angry caucuses in which pressure switched four Democrats from "no" to "aye" and two Republicans from their negative position, the measure sailed through with no debate and exactly enough votes for a constitutional majority.

After the 18 to 28 defeat of the measure, Senators Charles J. Weiner, minority leader, and Isadore Stiefel, both of Philadelphia, changed their votes in order to be able to revive the bill.

The count on passage was 26 to 22.

Two Democrats, Senators William J. Lane, of West Brownsville, and Harry E. Seyler, of York, stayed in revolt against a Republican demand that all 22 Democrats vote for the measure.

Four others yielded to pressure of Democratic leadership and changed their position. They were Senators Thomas J. Kalman, of Uniontown; Peter J. Camiel and Benjamin R. Donolow, of Philadelphia, and Hugh J. McMenamin, of Scranton.

Republican Senators Robert D. Fleming, of Aspinwall, and Charles R. Mallery, of Holidaysburg, switched their stands to the affirmative to compensate for Lane and Seyler.

Khrushchev May Stop In Capital Twice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev may stop in Washington twice during his visit to the United States, giving him extra opportunity for private talks with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet Premier is slated to arrive in Washington Sept. 15 for the start of a 12-day tour of the country. When he returns from his coast-to-coast travels, Eisenhower may take him to secluded Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains for a final chat.

This would afford Eisenhower a chance to speak to Khrushchev personally after the Soviet leader sees the United States first-hand. A major aim in inviting Khrushchev here has been to dispel what have been called his misconceptions about the freedom and strength of America.

An original estimate that Khrushchev would spend two to three days in Washington has now been lengthened to three or four days. The two men's talks on East-West issues would pick up in pace only after initial ceremonial functions due a visiting government head are out of the way.

Nation Buries Adm. Halsey, War II Hero

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation today buries one of its great naval heroes, Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey.

Final military tribute was prepared for the pugnacious "Bull" Halsey, whose 3rd Fleet outfoxed the Japanese Admiralty and sank the best of its fighting ships in World War II.

His body lay, with honor guard, in Washington National Cathedral. It was brought here Wednesday from Fishers Island, N.Y., where he died Sunday. The retired admiral was 76.

Gathering for the Cathedral services and the burial in Arlington National Cemetery this afternoon were the chief civilian and military leaders of the Defense Department, government officials, many personal friends and some of those who served with Halsey in the great days of the mighty Pacific campaigns.

Fliers To Bid For Capsule From Satellite

Discoverer VI Was Launch Wednesday, Now Orbiting Earth

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—From out of the vast Pacific heavens, a small capsule dangling from a parachute was expected to drop slowly toward the ocean today.

And waiting in Hawaii was a team of fliers with a seemingly impossible assignment—to go out and try to catch it before it hit the water.

The capsule went aloft Wednesday, fixed in the nose of the Discoverer VI satellite, which is flashing around the earth once every 95 minutes in an egg-shaped, north-south orbit.

This afternoon, 26 hours after the launching, the capsule was to be kicked loose from the 19-foot satellite.

And, for the second time in less than a week, a squadron of Air Force C119 Flying Boxcars was set to take off from Hawaii and try to execute an almost incredible catch. Each plane was equipped with a recovery net—a trapeze-like affair.

The project is aimed at solving the re-entry problem—how to get a man in space and, once he's there, get him back.

Although the odds against success seem overwhelming, the Air Force hoped to have more than the highly remote chance of sighting the capsule during its descent. The capsule was equipped with a radio which was supposed to send signals, to give the recovery team an idea of its whereabouts.

Such a recovery was planned following the successful launching of Discoverer V last week. But the radio iin the falling capsule evidently broke down. Nobody got a signal from it. The capsule, presumably, tumbled into the sea.

Discoverer VI is expected to remain iin orbit at least a month. It comes within 138 miles of earth at its closest approach and goes as far out as 537 miles.

Boy Drowns While Wading In Rural Lake

Georgetown District Youngster's Funeral To Be Held Saturday

A 12-year-old Georgetown R. D. 1 boy drowned Wednesday about 7 p. m. while wading with three younger brothers in an artificial lake on the Fox Nursing Home property on Route 30 near Laughlins Corners.

Robert Lee Reckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reckner, had been under about half an hour when Alvin (Pete) Arner of Chester quickly located the body in about five feet of water.

Arner had been called with the Arner Funeral Homes ambulance.

Chester volunteer firemen administered oxygen but with no success. Dr. Thomas Todd, Beaver County coroner, who investigated, said the other boys' are 8, 10 and 11.

The artificial lake is about 300 feet long and 200 feet wide and has three small islands. The property is a planned site for a nursing home to be constructed by the Fox Nursing Home of Chester. The lake area is being landscaped.

Mrs. Reckner called firemen who summoned the ambulance and a boat. Clarence Lennens and Lee Haney, Chester firemen, arrived first at the scene in a squad car. It was not necessary to use the boat, however.

He was born in Hookstown June 23, 1947, to Robert and Mary Reckner.

Besides his parents and brothers, Thomas Reckner, William Reckner and Clifford Reckner, he leaves three sisters, Dorothy Reckner, Betty Reckner and Wilma Reckner, all at the home.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home at Hookstown. Burial will be in Hookstown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 10 and Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Sulphuric Acid Thrown At Rep. Thompson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police say tests show it was sulphuric acid which was squirted at Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) as he drove to his office Wednesday.

Thompson had reported that a man in a truck squirted the liquid from a syringe when he stopped his car at a traffic light. The fluid burned a hole in his shirt and left a slight burn on his arm.

Baboon Snaps Tether, Flees Near Ohioville

Far from his native jungle haunt, a pet baboon is roving through the wooded district in the Ohioville-Fairview area back of Midland while Ohio Township Police Constable Bernard Zlatovich answers telephone calls for unbelieving rural householders who occasionally spot the simian.

Jo-Jo, the baboon, was the pet of Melvin Javens of Ohioville until two weeks ago when he snapped a chain that tethered him to a tree on the lawn. He has been seen at intervals since, but always has vanished before the owner or the constable could recapture him.

Jo-Jo was seen last about a week ago by a family at Cow Hollow on the Midland-Fairview Rd. A housewife told the constable she spotted the baboon but her husband refused to believe her story.

"There are no baboons in Ohio Township," he reassured his wife.

The constable said Jo-Jo is about 2½-feet tall and weights about 75 pounds. He probably is not a threat to anyone who encounters him unexpectedly, as the baboon is afraid of strangers and probably will flee, the owner told Zlatovich. Dangling from his neck is a six-foot section of his broken chain.

Zlatovich said anyone who spots the baboon should notify him or the owner quickly in order that the animal can be recaptured.

Chester Man Resigns From Council Post

No Action Taken In Session Devoted To Street Work Airing

Chester Council Wednesday night received a letter of resignation from Councilman James E. Waggle but no action was taken on the possible vacancy as the session was devoted mainly to airing of the street repair situation.

Clerk Roy Cashdollar presided in the absence of Mayor Burton Ward and read Waggle's resignation.

Waggle expressed thanks for cooperation from councilmen and others but gave no reason for his desire to relinquish the post. Action on the resignation was tabled until the meeting Sept. 2.

Discussion of delay in the street repair program and requests for repairs on other streets took up most of the meeting.

William Schladen of Lawrenceville acted as spokesman for a delegation from the Lawrenceville area requesting the improvement of the Lawrenceville Rd. In answer to a question from Schladen, Councilman Charles Kology said a contract for the improvement program has not been signed with the River Asphalt Co. of Newell.

Kology said a time payment plan

20 Killed, Thousands Hurt As Elephant Runs Amuck

KANDY, Ceylon (AP)—A maddened temple elephant charged a crowd of 200,000 at a religious festival Wednesday night. Twenty persons were reported killed in the crush and thousands injured.

Several persons were reported missing. It was feared some had fallen or jumped into Kandy Lake nearby.

The elephant was one of more than 100 participating with dancers and drummers in an annual Buddhist pageant called Perahera.

The animal became infuriated when it stepped on burning coals which had dropped from a flaming torch. It wheeled about and charged, and the crowd ran screaming in panic, seeking shelter in nearby buildings, atop walls and in trees.

Two mahouts clung to the elephant's tail and trunk. They finally stopped it and chained it to a lamppost. But the noise of the surging crowd set the beast off again and it broke loose, smashing shop fronts and trampling obstacles in its path.

Police finally shot and killed the animal on the street.

The Perahera pageant centered on the Temple of the Holy Tooth, one of Buddhism's most sacred spots. The temple houses a tooth supposed to have come from the jaw of Buddha, who founded the religion 25 centuries ago.

The polls opened at 8:30 a.m. in the 143 precincts and closed at 7:30 p.m. There were 187,541 registered voters, 57,109 of them Negroes.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev may stop in Washington twice during his visit to the United States, giving him extra opportunity for private talks with President Eisenhower.

The Soviet Premier is slated to arrive in Washington Sept. 15 for the start of a 12-day tour of the country. When he returns from his coast-to-coast travels, Eisenhower may take him to secluded Camp David in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains for a final chat.

This would afford Eisenhower a chance to speak to Khrushchev personally after the Soviet leader sees the United States first-hand. A major aim in inviting Khrushchev here has been to dispel what have been called his misconceptions about the freedom and strength of America.

An original estimate that Khrushchev would spend two to three days in Washington has now been lengthened to three or four days. The two men's talks on East-West issues would pick up in pace only after initial ceremonial functions due a visiting government head are out of the way.

Nation Buries Adm. Halsey, War II Hero

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation today buries one of its great naval heroes, Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey.

Final military tribute was prepared for the pugnacious "Bull" Halsey, whose 3rd Fleet outfoxed the Japanese Admiralty and sank the best of its fighting ships in World War II.

His body lay, with honor guard, in Washington National Cathedral. It was brought here Wednesday from Fishers Island, N.Y., where he died Sunday. The retired admiral was 76.

Gathering for the Cathedral services and the burial in Arlington National Cemetery this afternoon were the chief civilian and military leaders of the Defense Department, government officials, many personal friends and some of those who served with Halsey in the great days of the mighty Pacific campaigns.

Fliers To Bid For Capsule From Satellite

Discoverer VI Was Launch Wednesday, Now Orbiting Earth

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—From out of the vast Pacific heavens, a small capsule dangling from a parachute was expected to drop slowly toward the ocean today.

And waiting in Hawaii was a team of fliers with a seemingly impossible assignment—to go out and try to catch it before it hit the water.

The capsule went aloft Wednesday, fixed in the nose of the Discoverer VI satellite, which is flashing around the earth once every 95 minutes in an egg-shaped, north-south orbit.

This afternoon, 26 hours after the launching, the capsule was to be kicked loose from the 19-foot satellite.

And, for the second time in less than a week, a squadron of Air Force C119 Flying Boxcars was set to take off from Hawaii and try to execute an almost incredible catch. Each plane was equipped with a recovery net—a trapeze-like affair.

The project is aimed at solving the re-entry problem—how to get a man in space and, once he's there, get him back.

Although the odds against success seem overwhelming, the Air Force hoped to have more than the highly remote chance of sighting the capsule during its descent. The capsule was equipped with a radio which was supposed to send signals, to give the recovery team an idea of its whereabouts.

Such a recovery was planned following the successful launching of Discoverer V last week. But the radio iin the falling capsule evidently broke down. Nobody got a signal from it. The capsule, presumably, tumbled into the sea.

Discoverer VI is expected to remain iin orbit at least a month. It comes within 138 miles of earth at its closest approach and goes as far out as 537 miles.

Boy Drowns While Wading In Rural Lake

Georgetown District Youngster's Funeral To Be Held Saturday

A 12-year-old Georgetown R. D. 1 boy drowned Wednesday about 7 p. m. while wading with three younger brothers in an artificial lake on the Fox Nursing Home property on Route 30 near Laughlins Corners.

Robert Lee Reckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reckner, had been under about half an hour when Alvin (Pete) Arner of Chester quickly located the body in about five feet of water.

Arner had been called with the Arner Funeral Homes ambulance.

Chester volunteer firemen administered oxygen but with no success. Dr. Thomas Todd, Beaver County coroner, who investigated, said the other boys' are 8, 10 and 11.

The artificial lake is about 300 feet long and 200 feet wide and has three small islands. The property is a planned site for a nursing home to be constructed by the Fox Nursing Home of Chester. The lake area is being landscaped.

Mrs. Reckner called firemen who summoned the ambulance and a boat. Clarence Lennens and Lee Haney, Chester firemen, arrived first at the scene in a squad car. It was not necessary to use the boat, however.

He was born in Hookstown June 23, 1947, to Robert and Mary Reckner.

Besides his parents and brothers, Thomas Reckner, William Reckner and Clifford Reckner, he leaves three sisters, Dorothy Reckner, Betty Reckner and Wilma Reckner, all at the home.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Welch Funeral Home at Hookstown. Burial will be in Hookstown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight from 7 to 10 and Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p. m.

Baboon Snaps Tether, Flees Near Ohioville

Far from his native jungle haunt, a pet baboon is roving through the wooded district in the Ohioville-Fairview area back of Midland while Ohio Township Police Constable Bernard Zlatovich answers telephone calls for unbelieving rural householders who occasionally spot the simian.

Jo-Jo, the baboon, was the pet of Melvin Javens of Ohioville until two weeks ago when he snapped a chain that tethered him to a tree on the lawn. He has been seen at intervals since, but always has vanished before the owner or the constable could recapture him.

Jo-Jo was seen last about a week ago by a family at Cow Hollow on the Midland-Fairview Rd. A housewife told the constable she spotted the baboon but her husband refused to believe her story.

"There are no baboons in Ohio Township," he reassured his wife.

The constable said Jo-Jo is about 2½-feet tall and weights about 75 pounds. He probably is not a threat to anyone who encounters him unexpectedly, as the baboon is afraid of strangers and probably will flee, the owner told Zlatovich. Dangling from his neck is a six-foot section of his broken chain.

Zlatovich said anyone who spots the baboon should notify him or the owner quickly in order that the animal can be recaptured.

Chester Man Resigns From Council Post

No Action Taken In Session Devoted To Street Work Airing

Chester Council Wednesday night received a letter of resignation from Councilman James E. Waggle but no action was taken on the possible vacancy as the session was devoted mainly to airing of the street repair situation.

Clerk Roy Cashdollar presided in the absence of Mayor Burton Ward and read Waggle's resignation.

Waggle expressed thanks for cooperation from councilmen and others but gave no reason for his desire to relinquish the post. Action on the resignation was tabled until the meeting Sept. 2.

Discussion of delay in the street repair program and requests for repairs on other streets took up most of the meeting.

William Schladen of Lawrenceville acted as spokesman for a delegation from the Lawrenceville area requesting the improvement of the Lawrenceville Rd. In answer to a question from Schladen, Councilman Charles Kology said a contract for the improvement program has not been signed with the River Asphalt Co. of Newell.

Kology said a time payment plan

At Ceylon Religious Festival

20 Killed, Thousands Hurt As Elephant Runs Amuck

KANDY, Ceylon (AP)—A maddened temple elephant charged a crowd of 200,000 at a religious festival Wednesday night. Twenty persons were reported killed in the crush and thousands injured.

Several persons were reported missing. It was feared some had fallen or jumped into Kandy Lake nearby.

The elephant was one of more than 100 participating with dancers and drummers in an annual Buddhist pageant called Perahera.

The animal became infuriated when it stepped on burning coals which had dropped from a flaming torch. It wheeled about and charged, and the crowd ran screaming in panic, seeking shelter in nearby buildings, atop walls and in trees.

Two mahouts clung to the elephant's tail and trunk. They finally stopped it and chained it to a lamppost. But the noise of the surging crowd set the beast off again and it broke loose, smashing shop fronts and trampling obstacles in its path.

Police finally shot and killed the animal on the street.

32 Die In Air Crash

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — A holiday in Spain ended in death for 21 British students Wednesday when their chartered airliner shattered on a fog-wrapped mountain peak. The British crew of three and the eight other passengers also were killed. The students were returning to London. The twin-engine plane plowed into the 2,400-foot peak of Man 25 miles northeast of here.

Segregation Group Jittery In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Segregation forces were jittery today in an election that might send a Negro to city office.

For the first time in the history of this city of the Deep South, Negro candidates loomed large in two races—public works commissioner and juvenile judge.

Negro leaders prayed for rain, which could increase the Negro turnout by stopping cotton picking in surrounding areas. Many Memphis Negroes make daily trips to nearby fields during the picking season.

The polls opened at 8:30 a.m. in the 143 precincts and closed at 7:30 p.m. There were 187,541 registered voters, 57,109 of them Negroes.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The last survivor of the Civil War armies sank into delirium for a time Wednesday, then rallied slightly.

The condition of Walter W. Williams, 116-year-old Confederate veteran, remained critical.

Sulphuric Acid Thrown At Rep. Thompson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police say tests show it was sulphuric acid which was squirted at Rep. Frank Thompson (D-NJ) as he drove to his office Wednesday.

Thompson had reported that a man in a truck squirted the liquid from a syringe when he stopped his car at a traffic light. The fluid burned a hole in his shirt and left a slight burn on his arm.

Pfc. Gerald Dunlevy Killed In Accident On Okinawa

Pfc. Gerald (Duce) Dunlevy, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dunlevy of 1st St., Newell, and an athlete when he attended Wells High School, was killed on Okinawa Wednesday when a vehicle he was driving went over a cliff.

The Marine Corps advised the family he suffered "extreme multiple injuries." Other details were lacking.

He was well known as a baseball player with the Little, Pony and Prep Leagues of this district.

He was born June 19, 1941, in New Cumberland and was active in football and basketball while in the Newell school. He enlisted in the Marine Corps last fall and received basic training at Parris Island, S. C., and advanced training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Hot and humid weather is returning to the valley with a sizzling high of around 92 forecast for today and a warm low of 70 tonight.

And it will be sunny, hot and humid Friday with a chance of widely scattered afternoon or evening showers, an indication there will be very little rain, if any, to lessen the heat.

must be worked out with the firm. Council accepted a bid of $12,307 from River Asphalt in July but due to a cutback in appropriations for fiscal 1959-60, the city does not have the necessary money to go ahead.

The proposed program includes Lawrenceville Rd., Fairview St. and Fairview Rd., all inside the city limits, and 16 blocks of seal-coating. Kology said the city should know sometime early next week if financial arrangements can be made.

One member of the delegation said he understands revenue from city drivers' licenses is to be used for street improvements. Kology pointed out the $3,000 obtained from the licenses will not go far on a $12,000 program. Waggle said no other streets will be done if the Lawrenceville and Fairview roads are not blacktopped.

Waggle suggested the Lawrenceville group circulate a petition asking assistance from the State Road Commission in patching holes before the blacktopping.

Following the lengthy discussion, Kology said "we are bound and determined to fix the Lawrenceville Rd."

Robert Reed of Fairview St. asked when his street will be improved, pointing out most of the residents have paid the $25 assessment per lot. He was given the same answer as the Lawrenceville group.

Belford Lynch and David Lynch, both of 1st St., asked for improvement of 1st St. Hill.

Kology, street chairman, said he would notify the street department to apply red dog.

Council voted to discontinue the Hi-Teen dances held twice weekly during the summer months because of malicious destruction in and around the City Hall. Council will study the situation to see if a plan for reopening the Hi-Teen can be worked out.

Council also voted to erect a stop sign at 5th St. and an unnamed alley at the rear of the 5th St. Tavern.

The levy estimate for 1959-60 was approved. Copies will be sent the state tax commissioner and state auditor at Charleston and the county assessor at New Cumberland. The estimate was set by Council at a special meeting Aug. 4.

Charles Cumberledge of Lawrenceville told Council he was notified he must obtain a city driver license. He said he resides just across the city limits but Council informed him he lives within the city.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. was granted permission to make a driveway across the sidewalk at Neptune Ave. and 9th St. J. A. Bower appeared for the pottery.

Solicitor William E. Conklin reported he will mail the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh copies of contracts signed with McGill, Smith & Rickers of Bethel, consulting engineers, on the proposed retaining wall to be constructed at the upper pump house. The wall will be needed when the Ohio River rises after the Stratton super-dam is completed. Council has approved the contracts.

2 Were Killed, 28 Injured

Recording Among Data Studied In Carrier Blast

QUONSET POINT, R.I. (AP)—An unusual tape recording of the explosion and fire which killed two men and injured 28 aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp is among the evidence being studied today by a Navy investigation board.

The sound of the blast and the spontaneous reaction of the men was recorded because a tape-recorder microphone had been opened to pick up the voices of cribbage-playing officers.

The Wasp was on antisubmarine maneuvers 250 miles off the Virginia coast when the mishap occurred Tuesday.

Lt. (j.g.) Jim Frank Hagen of Marianna, Fla., perished when trapped in the helicopter whose engine exploded while he was testing it in a hangar aboard the Wasp.

Aviation Apprentice Donald H. Trask of Keene, N.H., whose body was found at the bottom of a plane elevator, apparently was asphyxiated.

None of the injured was considered in a serious condition.

Sources at this naval base said the damage to the Wasp might exceed five million dollars.

Rear Adm. Robert Stroh, commander of Carrier Division 14, said the helicopter engine "ran away and exploded while it was being tested by a qualified pilot."

He said runaway engines are not uncommon in flight and the governors fail to function properly. But he said he never heard of a runaway engine under hangar-deck testing conditions.

Navy men explained that governors are mounted on helicopter engines to regulate their speed but that under some circumstances—more commonly under the stress of flight conditions—they may function badly.

Officers were playing cribbage near the deck hangar. Lt. Patrick Harney of Robinsdale, Minn., turned on a tape recorder as a joke. He got two minutes of recording of the disaster, including the explosion that started the fire.

Intruder Obtains $15 From Area Gas Station

A burglar obtained about $15 in change early today from an Amoco service station on Route 168 between Smiths Ferry and Stop 9 at Midland, Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township police constable, reported.

Various items of merchandise also were taken and an unsuccessful attempt was made to rifle a cigarette vending machine, the constable said. The loss still has not been determined exactly, he explained.

Entrance was gained by breaking a side window. The intruder left via a side door. The station is operated by William McLaughlin, East Liverpool used car dealer.

A negative report was recieved late Wednesday afternoon, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said.

Contractor Nears End In Street Resurfacing

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia, contractor, is expected to complete work today on resurfacing of the E. 5th St. Hill and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," although finishing touches on the project may require another few days' work.

After the resurfacing is completed, the contractor is scheduled to work on sections of the berm to bring it up to the level of the new pavement. The project stretches from Broadway to Maple St. Work began Monday.

The job is a $35,000 Highway Department contract, but both the city and Columbiana County contributed toward the cost.

Kology pointed out the $3,000 obtained from the licenses will not go far on a $12,000 program. Waggle said no other streets will be done if the Lawrenceville and Fairview roads are not blacktopped.

Waggle suggested the Lawrenceville group circulate a petition asking assistance from the State Road Commission in patching holes before the blacktopping.

Following the lengthy discussion, Kology said "we are bound and determined to fix the Lawrenceville Rd."

Robert Reed of Fairview St. asked when his street will be improved, pointing out most of the residents have paid the $25 assessment per lot. He was given the same answer as the Lawrenceville group.

Belford Lynch and David Lynch, both of 1st St., asked for improvement of 1st St. Hill.

Kology, street chairman, said he would notify the street depart- to apply red dog.

Council voted to discontinue the Hi-Teen dances held twice weekly during the summer months because of malicious destruction in and around the City Hall. Council will study the situation to see if a plan for reopening the Hi-Teen can be worked out.

Council also voted to erect a stop sign at 5th St. and an unnamed alley at the rear of the 5th St. Tavern.

The levy estimate for 1959-60 was approved. Copies will be sent the state tax commissioner and state auditor at Charleston and the county assessor at New Cumberland. The estimate was set by Council at a special meeting Aug. 4.

Charles Cumberledge of Lawrenceville told Council he was notified he must obtain a city driver license. He said he resides just across the city limits but Council informed him he lives within the city.

The Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. was granted permission to make a driveway across the sidewalk at Neptune Ave. and 9th St. J. A. Bower appeared for the pottery.

Solicitor William E. Conklin reported he will mail the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh copies of contracts signed with McGill, Smith & Rickers of Bethel, consulting engineers, on the proposed retaining wall to be constructed at the upper pump house. The wall will be needed when the Ohio River rises after the Stratton super-dam is completed. Council has approved the contracts.

2 Were Killed, 28 Injured

Recording Among Data Studied In Carrier Blast

QUONSET POINT, R.I. (AP)—An unusual tape recording of the explosion and fire which killed two men and injured 28 aboard the aircraft carrier Wasp is among the evidence being studied today by a Navy investigation board.

The sound of the blast and the spontaneous reaction of the men was recorded because a tape-recorder microphone had been opened to pick up the voices of cribbage-playing officers.

The Wasp was on antisubmarine maneuvers 250 miles off the Virginia coast when the mishap occurred Tuesday.

Lt. (j.g.) Jim Frank Hagen of Marianna, Fla., perished when trapped in the helicopter whose engine exploded while he was testing it in a hangar aboard the Wasp.

Aviation Apprentice Donald H. Trask of Keene, N.H., whose body was found at the bottom of a plane elevator, apparently was asphyxiated.

None of the injured was considered in a serious condition.

Sources at this naval base said the damage to the Wasp might exceed five million dollars.

Rear Adm. Robert Stroh, commander of Carrier Division 14, said the helicopter engine "ran away and exploded while it was being tested by a qualified pilot."

He said runaway engines are not uncommon in flight and the governors fail to function properly. But he said he never heard of a runaway engine under hangar-deck testing conditions.

Navy men explained that governors are mounted on helicopter engines to regulate their speed but that under some circumstances—more commonly under the stress of flight conditions—they may function badly.

Officers were playing cribbage near the deck hangar. Lt. Patrick Harney of Robinsdale, Minn., turned on a tape recorder as a joke. He got two minutes of recording of the disaster, including the explosion that started the fire.

Intruder Obtains $15 From Area Gas Station

A burglar obtained about $15 in change early today from an Amoco service station on Route 168 between Smiths Ferry and Stop 9 at Midland, Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township police constable, reported.

Various items of merchandise also were taken and an unsuccessful attempt was made to rifle a cigarette vending machine, the constable said. The loss still has not been determined exactly, he explained.

Entrance was gained by breaking a side window. The intruder left via a side door. The station is operated by William McLaughlin, East Liverpool used car dealer.

A negative report was recieved late Wednesday afternoon, Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, said.

Edgar Spring, Inc., of New Philadelphia, contractor, is expected to complete work today on resurfacing of the E. 5th St. Hill and the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd.," although finishing touches on the project may require another few days' work.

After the resurfacing is completed, the contractor is scheduled to work on sections of the berm to bring it up to the level of the new pavement. The project stretches from Broadway to Maple St. Work began Monday.

The job is a $35,000 Highway Department contract, but both the city and Columbiana County contributed toward the cost.

Disaster In Yellowstone's Playland

It will be weeks and perhaps months before the loss of life in the Yellowstone earthquake disaster can be appraised with accuracy.

The final accounting will be possible only when inquiries have indicated how many missing persons might be found under the hundreds of thousands of tons of debris that filled the valley of the Madison River.

Casualties above ground will be a problem in themselves, because it will be impossible to know how many tourists ultimately are present and accounted for and how many may have been visiting Yellowstone without families or friends who now would be curious about their whereabouts.

When a final estimate has been made, the Yellowstone quake will have proved to be a memorable disaster; the exact total of casualties will not be important. Natural disasters of this kind are rare. They are always memorable.

They are the tidal waves and windstorms —the floods and torrential downpours—the cyclones and heat waves — the blizzards and droughts.

They are the reminders to man that all his ingenuity in creating new and more terrible ways to do hurt to his fellowmen are no match for the potentialities of disaster built into the nature of his existence. Man has no security other than he is granted by the forebearance of the things that could destroy him, including that broad streak of savagery in his own makeup that destroyed millions only a few years ago and today has infinitely more destructive weapons at hand.

When an earthquake occurs in the Yellowstone area, there are no morals to be drawn, no lessons to be learned, no remedial laws to be passed. It is something that can happen anywhere on earth. There is no security other than that which exists by virtue of the fact an earthquake may not happen in a given lifetime.

To Be Filed With A Candle Stub

Odds-and-ends-historians and onlookers at the passing scene are having a rare treat with the electric power failure in New York City last Monday afternoon and night.

Their range of interest extends from the technical to the occult. Engineers are still trying to understand what caused the power pull that overheated six main cables and put them out of commission. Psychologists are digging into human reaction patterns. Police authorities are reappraising their responsbility for curbing the underworld instinct to run amuck in darkness; it did not happen on the scale they feared it would.

Vehicular traffic authorities have their special field of interest, too, and it may yield information of lasting value to cities with less aggravated traffic problems than those that beset New York City.

Traffic snarls developed throughout the blacked-out area when traffic signals quit working. But drivers quickly realized what had happened and made their own adjustment to a new kind of traffic environment. The result was a pleasant surprise to traffic authorities, who say that traffic moved more smoothly in some areas than it does when all the signals are working.

One thing that helped, of course, was the virtual absence of pedestrian traffic moving at right angles to vehicular traffic and halting it periodically. Pedestrians did not dare to cross streets without signal-light protection. But free from both pedestrians and signal lights in some places where perhaps no lights should be, traffic movement in the blackout emergency was good.

It left residue of knowledge: That some preconceived ideas about traffic management are based on nothing more substantial than theory and could be blown sky-high if the theories were tested.

There are thousands of traffic signals in this country that never should have been erected and thousands more that have outlived their usefulness and should be removed.

Khrushchev Or The Man From Mars

It used to be the man from Mars everybody thought about when it was time to see ourselves as others see us. Now it's Nikita Khrushchev.

Of the two, Khrushchev is handier, because he, himself, is something to be understood better. While he is examining us on his forthcoming visit, we'll be examining him, in the hope of reaching an understanding. We suspect this wouldn't be the case with the man from Mars, but let it go.

While everybody else has been ticking off things Khrushchev should be shown in the United States, our thoughts have been turning to things we'd be just as happy if he didn't see them—one in particular.

We saw it the other day when we went to the grocery store to take home a sack of potatoes. Or was it tomatoes? We forget.

We say "it," but we mean "them." What we saw was plural. It also was singular, but no numerically singular—just anatomically singular.

It was the all-American, Yankee Doodle Dandy come-as-you-are movement. It was life in the raw. Bear in mind this was a trip to a grocery store, not an excursion to a bathing beach.

There were people in sight who had come as they were, from the bedside and the bathroom. They were of both sexes. Our thoughts flew back to the dear, dead days when Mrs. Murphy used to chide Mr. Murphy for sitting on the front porch in his undershirt with his suspenders draped and his sock feet propped on the railing.

Here was Mrs. Murphy's daughter in a getup that would have had old man Murphy pretending he had something in his eye if he had seen it in the comparative privacy of his upstairs hall. And sure enough, there was Murphy, or something that looked like him, with no undershirt, no suspenders, no socks and scarcely any pants.

We never did get the potatoes, or whatever they were. We picked up a bottle of sedatives on the way out and went home to lie down while we mused about the possible impact of this sort of thing on Khrushchev. The Russians go in for mixed bathing in the nude, we've read somewhere. But they won't undress to buy potatoes.

Khrushchev might conclude we've no clothes to wear.

The Once Over

Cables between Nikita and Ike, as reported by our "Private Eye."

Time is getting near. Am packing lexicon of sharp digs and ready quips. How many pounds of these will U.S. Customs office allow me to bring in? What about Broadway confetti parade?—N.K.

Why give you Customs rules? You'll pay no attention. Don't expect big Broadway parade. You never swam channel or won British open,—Ike.

Can I get parade if I am first man to fly the Atlantic on a BROOM?—N.K.

You forget Kozlov and Mikoyan beat you to that.—Ike.

Are you the old Eisenhower or the new Eisenhower? It puzzles me.—N.K.

Are you the old, the new or the half-and-half Khurshchev. —Ike.

If I go on Sunday panel shows will you demand equal time?—N.K.

Only if you confuse them with media for revival of old-time vaudeville shows. Incidentally which would you prefer to see, Colorado River from the top of the Grand Canyon or the N.Y. Yankees from the top of the American league?—Ike.

What's the difference?—N.K.

What's this about you wearing one golf shoe on one foot and a regular shoe on another? I must have an explanation. The golf shoe suggests indirect aggression. I feel both feet should be friendly.—N.K.

I'm not planning belligerent footwork. I hope for similar assurance while I am in Russia. But find it hard to forget Gromyko's spiked shoe on one foot and reinforced leather boot on the other all through the Geneva conference. What shoes are you wearing at the U.N. meeting?—Ike.

The important thing about the U.N. meeting will be my Socks. Remember me to Nixon. But don't remember Nixon to me. —N.K.

Diane Struble, 26-year-old mother of three, who swam around Manhattan Island, may have been driven to it by stories subways were more overcrowded this summer.

Staten Island, which is being joined to New York by its first bridge, has been seen by comparatively few New Yorkers. It has been reachable only by ferry from the Gotham side. While the ferry trip was colorful and the island itself a picturesque area, the typical New Yorker was a fellow who had never set foot on it.

A New England telephone company has announced that you can dial 1122125551212 and get the information operator in New York. We tried it. First we phoned a company vice president and asked,, "Is it true about 1122125551212?"

"Would you mind repeating that?" he asked. We told him we certainly would and got the information operator. The number had by this time eluded us and we asked, "What's the number to be dialed for New York information?"

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the girl, "Can you give me a clue? I had it but it's slipped my mind. Are you sure you want to continue? It's an awful way for either of us to start the day."

We demanded that she brace herself and give us the dial numbers. (There was no answer. It seemed she had been taken out of the box and a relief operator sent in from the bull pen.) "What number?" she asked. "Who?" we replied. "I dunno. You started this," was the reply.

Just heard of a GI who rejected that new all-purpose electronically equipped uniform with the comment, "No reverse gears."

When Do We Unmask?

We Could Learn From The British

By Victor Riesel

LONDON

Most of this past weekend the finest of Scotland Yard, some mighty bright agents of J. Edgar Hoover's FBI and several U.S. Secret Service men were busy preparing for the security of another visitor —by the name of Dwight D. Eisenh o w e r. They ignored my talents. So I left them to their own devices and set out to discover why there are no crooks inside British labor, though some of our unions are part of the underworld.

Victor Riesel

Soon I was in the presence of Sir Cecil Crabbe, a genial guardian knight in modern black coat and striped trousers. Her Majesty, the Queen, appointed Sir Cecil to an odd-sounding post — registrar of Friendly Societies.

Strange as it sounds, if we had one in the United States we would have no crooks. We would not be the butt of mocking jibes across the world.

THE FOREIGN RADIO would not be talking of "American labor racketeering." No one could steal union funds. Not a single union member could be deprived of any of his rights. Nor would a penny of his dues or assessments go to support political candidates or parties he disliked.

Of all this, what intrigues me most is Sir Cecil's power to protect the funds of a union from political abuse. Especially in view of the uproar inside Congress today over a new labor law. The British are so calm about it all — and so effective.

Sir Cecil is modest about his powers. He called in his aides and we went through documents which show first that the Register of Friendly Societies is a list of associations running from building and loan outfits and ladies' marching groups (black sashes on display) to trade unions.

Labor organizations have to register if they want to avoid paying income tax on their "provident funds" — pension and welfare pools and investments.

Sir Cecil, who had never been interviewed before, asked me why I was so interested. I told him of crooks and muscle men and suppression of rights. "Incredible, he said, "incredible. Look here at our political section." I looked.

THE REGISTRAR has the power to enforce a law which says no union can spend any money out of its general funds on politics—for political meetings, literature, use of cars or expenses or support and maintenance (meaning a salary) of political candidates.

If a union wants to go into politics, it first has to write such a project into its constitution. This has to be passed by the membership. Then the program must be registered.

The union has to create a special political fund, which must be run along "Model Rules For Political Funds." These are inspected and guarded by Sir Cecil and his staff.

Sir Cecil explained that any union member can "contract out" of the political fund if he wants. The funds are created by union officials taking a small percentage of each member's dues and assessments.

If the member decides to "contract out," he merely fills out a form and sends it along to the proper officials. From that moment, the member's dues cannot be used for political purposes.

This means that no member can be forced to pay full dues if his money is being used for the distribution of any political literature or documents or in support of any candidate or, even more important, any prospective candidate.

The fact that every member of the union has the right to refuse to join in the union's political activity must be passed on to him by the union officials.

FURTHERMORE, the law says (and the registrar makes certain) that "a member who is exempt from the obligation to contribute to the political fund of the union shall not be excluded from any benefits of the union or placed in any respect either directly or indirectly under any disability or disadvantage as compared with other members of the union except in relation to control or management of the political fund of the union. . ."

If anybody picks on those members who don't want to kick in, the aggrieved members can go to the registrar. He makes a decision. That's it. The registrar can prosecute.

There have been cases where members have complained because a penny was taken out of their dues each period by a Communist controlled union without authorization. The registrar ruled this unlawful. It wasn't the penny. It was the principle.

Maybe the British could lend us Sir Cecil in exchange for all that tea we dumped some time back.

Facts And Figures

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The steel strike had been going on since July 15 and President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided to do something about it, but in a very restrained way.

They hadn't taken sides. And they weren't taking sides now, although if the strike continues into late September the shortage of steel may create a national emergency.

The two men thought it might be worthwhile to give the public some facts and figures which various government agencies have gathered on steelworkers' earnings and productivity and on the steel industry's prices and profits.

The steel dispute really began early last May when negotiations started. But from the beginning both sides have dawdled in one of the most lackadaisical negotiations in American history.

And even now, with the strike costing 300 million dollars a week in production and 70 million dollars in wages, neither side shows a pressing anxiety to reach a settlement.

So just how laying down some facts and figures on wages and profits might hasten an agreement isn't at all clear. But Eisenhower and Mitchell decided to go ahead and make the figures public.

Mitchell announced Tuesday the government's figures would be unveiled at a news conference Wednesday afternoon.

As each reporter walked in he got a 42 - page, brown - paper covered booklet with masses of statistics and charts. The information it contained had been gathered from government agencies and some of it even from the steel industry itself.

The booklet had an explanatory foreward by Mitchell. In it he said: "There are no conclusions drawn in this booklet. The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor in the industry."

If the President or Mitchell had drawn conclusions from the figures they produced, they would have been putting the heat on one side or the other in the dispute to get off the high horse.

But without such official conclusions, the result had to be every man for himself in deciding what the figures meant. The reporters realized this, of course, but were glad to see the government figures anyway.

But then they read elsewhere in Mitchell's foreward this statement: "Management and labor already know these facts."

One gray-haired reporter, who has been around Washington a long time and has never been easily impressed by the pronouncements of government officials, read that sentence from Mitchell's foreward to some of the reporters around him.

He said it reminded him of a couple of vaudeville comedians he saw once. One of them was lying on the stage, supposedly wounded in battle. The other said: "Tell me your name and I'll tell your mother."

But the one lying on the stage said: "You don't have to tell my mother. She knows my name."

This may have been a sardonic view of the situation after Eisenhower and Mitchell went to the trouble of gathering into one booklet a mass of information on steel profits and wages.

But it did point up the central question:

If the steel union and the steel industry know all these facts and after almost four months haven't made any progress toward a settlement, why should anyone think making the facts public will have any effect on either side?

Since the government isn't willing to go beyond saying "come on, boys, and get together," there is a pretty good chance there will be a steel strike for quite a while yet.

Lessons On Freedom

By David Lawrence

Two Advertisements Tell A Story

There's beginning to be a bit of sensitivity about what Nikita Khrushchev should hear or see or read while he is in the United States. If he is well advised and really wants to know how the capitalistic system functions, there are two advertisements published in the newspapers in the last few days which will tell him things that may surprise him. They constitute a dramatic lesson in economics.

David Lawrence

Pronouncement No. 1 is on the subject of inflation and shows that in America everybody has a right to speak out in the hope of influencing public opinion so as to bring about self restraint among organized groups. Remedies that in the Soviet Union would be applied by police or military force are left to the people of America themselves to work out through appeals to reason.

Pronouncement No. 2 gives the viewpoint of the steel companies in answer to a previous advertisement by the Steelworkers Union which had pointed to the profits of the employer companies as "fantastic," and had argued that these provide money enough to pay increased wages without a price rise. The steel companies reply that this year the "Steelworkers' increased pay outstripped the owners' dividend increase 86-1."

MORE IMPORTANT than the debate over whether the profits were large enough to pay more wage increases is the news contained in the statement by the steel companies as to what they did with their profits. The explanation was as follows:

"Roughly one-third of the profit was 'phantom profit' which had to be used to cover the inflated cost of replacing worn out tools and facilities. This one-third provided nothing for the owners — nothing for expansion. It had to be used just to stand still. Otherwise the steel industry would die a little each year as its plants wore out. And so would the jobs of its more than 600,000 employes and the invested savings of its more than one million shareowners.

"Another third or so of the profit went to meet the continuing need for improved or enlarged plants and equipment, necessary working capital, new sources of raw materials, new research facilities, and to improve productive effieiency generally. This was the 're-invested profit' that provides for America's industrial growth, sustains job security and steadily raises the standard of living of the American people.

"What was left of the profit — 268 million dollars — went to the owners of the steel companies in the form of dividends—the only payment they received from their companies for the use of all the tools that their savings have provided; and it represented an annual return of about 3 per cent on the present market value of their investment. That is about the same return you get on your savings account at the bank — less than on a government bond."

THIS DEBATE, revealing how the capitalistic system works, goes on in the midst of a strike that has tied up the entire steel industry and is an example of the free interplay of the forces of public opinion which will eventually influence a settlement of the dispute.

Pronouncement No. 1 was presented more graphically in an advertisement from another quarter. A big photograph of a pistol, with a lot of bullets beside it, carried the heading: "The biggest robbery this country has ever known." This was published by Young & Rubicam, an advertising agency in the famous Madison Ave. district in New York which is often referred to as the source of many ideas that influence the political battles of our democracy.

The declaration was undoubtedly designed to affect public opinion by dramatizing the inflation issue. It said:

"Last year, a thief stole money from 160 million people — including you. He stole some of your food money, some of your savings, some of all the money you earned. He stole some the year before last, the year before that. And unless something is done about it, he'll keep on stealing.

"Who is the thief? The name isn't important — call him 'inflation,' 'high cost of living,' 'the shrinking dollar,' anything you like.

"But what is important is the historical fact that in any country where this inflationary process has been carried to a conclusion, the result has been depression; not 'recession,' but depression — a dark, agonizing period of hardship, poverty and suffering, often leading to revolution and dictatorship."

THE ARGUMENT continues with the suggestion that the government can help by living within its income, while business and labor should be "both judicious and responsible" with respect to pricing and profit-taking and to requests for increased pay.

The people as a whole, moreover, are urged not to demand the spending of money by the government for "improvements" unless they are willing to shoulder increased taxes to pay for them.

Here we have debate on the free enterprise and the free trade union system. Both may from time to time bring excesses but, precisely because these are recognized and publicly discussed, they are eventually resolved by the processes of American public opinion. By noting this form of discussion, Nikita Khrushchev may learn something constructive about what is meant by freedom as opposed to the rule of dictatorship.

All Work And No Play

By Truman Twill

Nothing upsets me quicker or leaves me queasier than a suggestion that "working people" in the United States belong in some special class.

I contend there are only two kinds of people anywhere—those who work and those who don't work and that the latter are a tiny fraction of the population as a whole—that nearly everybody is a worker.

It never has mattered two whoops to me what kind of a worker he is, as long as he is doing something to justify his existence. I claim that is what it means to be a worker, nothing else.

I have no patience with these sad relics of worn-out European hogwash who preach that to be a worker means you have to be a manual laborer. As far as I can see, the soft-handed, soft-headed snobs and slobs who thought up this nonsense in the first place were showing contempt for people they considered inferior to them when they invented the distinction.

Having been many varieties of worker, I can testify that the output of effort in one compares favorably with the output of effort in another. There are some kinds of work that drain out physical energy. Other kinds use up mental energy. But all kinds of work leave the worker tired and yearning for rest.

I have known a few fools who never did any actual physical work and yet had the gall to say that physical workers did not seem to be doing anything to make them feel tired. I have known quite a number of fools who never did any mental work and therefore were unable to believe, in their ignorance, that mental work too could be tiring.

The trouble springs from a misconception about energy, and the misconception must have come into existence a long time ago when everybody did something with his hands, because there was no other kind of work that needed to be done.

Since then, work has branched out. Work today can consist of nothing but prolonged anxiety and tension. This leaves workers just as tired as if they had been breaking up rocks with a sledge. Or take the singer who belts out a production number in a big show. Is that work? A few minutes of singing?

Behind it are months and years of preparation. Behind a surgeon's skill lies a lifetime of preparatory work, and in every operation there is an expenditure of energy that would make a quarry slave wince with fatigue.

I respect every human being who does something for his keep.

I hand it to entertainers, steeplejacks, jockeys, teachers, truckdrivers, librarians, artists, tailors, models, students, professors, explorers, aviators, sweepers, vice presidents, cashiers, countermen, clerks and housewives. They all work.

The color of their clothes and whether the shirts they wear are blue or white has no bearing on my feelings. Neither does their income. I'd rather be an underpaid teacher doing a good job than an overpaid vice president who had been kicked upstairs because someone was trying to keep him from standing in the way of progress.

I'd rather be a minister doing a good job in my parish than a wolf of Wall Street or an oil tycoon who had made a pot of money by being lucky with a couple of holes bored in the ground.

And I'd rather be a dirty-fingernail stiff in a shop than a manicured fop in a saloon, if I could honestly say I had a clean conscience when I sat down to eat.

Just so no one tries to make queer distinctions among workers in my hearing. If we earn our keep, we're all workers—with an equal right to be proud of it. If we are parasites — if we don't work—there's nothing to be proud of.

Disaster In Yellowstone's Playland

It will be weeks and perhaps months before the loss of life in the Yellowstone earthquake disaster can be appraised with accuracy.

The final accounting will be possible only when inquiries have indicated how many missing persons might be found under the hundreds of thousands of tons of debris that filled the valley of the Madison River.

Casualties above ground will be a problem in themselves, because it will be impossible to know how many tourists ultimately are present and accounted for and how many may have been visiting Yellowstone without families or friends who now would be curious about their whereabouts.

When a final estimate has been made, the Yellowstone quake will have proved to be a memorable disaster; the exact total of casualties will not be important. Natural disasters of this kind are rare. They are always memorable.

They are the tidal waves and windstorms —the floods and torrential downpours—the cyclones and heat waves — the blizzards and droughts.

They are the reminders to man that all his ingenuity in creating new and more terrible ways to do hurt to his fellowmen are no match for the potentialities of disaster built into the nature of his existence. Man has no security other than he is granted by the forebearance of the things that could destroy him, including that broad streak of savagery in his own makeup that destroyed millions only a few years ago and today has infinitely more destructive weapons at hand.

When an earthquake occurs in the Yellowstone area, there are no morals to be drawn, no lessons to be learned, no remedial laws to be passed. It is something that can happen anywhere on earth. There is no security other than that which exists by virtue of the fact an earthquake may not happen in a given lifetime.

To Be Filed With A Candle Stub

Odds-and-ends-historians and onlookers at the passing scene are having a rare treat with the electric power failure in New York City last Monday afternoon and night.

Their range of interest extends from the technical to the occult. Engineers are still trying to understand what caused the power pull that overheated six main cables and put them out of commission. Psychologists are digging into human reaction patterns. Police authorities are reappraising their responsbility for curbing the underworld instinct to run amuck in darkness; it did not happen on the scale they feared it would.

Vehicular traffic authorities have their special field of interest, too, and it may yield information of lasting value to cities with less aggravated traffic problems than those that beset New York City.

Traffic snarls developed throughout the blacked-out area when traffic signals quit working. But drivers quickly realized what had happened and made their own adjustment to a new kind of traffic environment. The result was a pleasant surprise to traffic authorities, who say that traffic moved more smoothly in some areas than it does when all the signals are working.

One thing that helped, of course, was the virtual absence of pedestrian traffic moving at right angles to vehicular traffic and halting it periodically. Pedestrians did not dare to cross streets without signal-light protection. But free from both pedestrians and signal lights in some places where perhaps no lights should be, traffic movement in the blackout emergency was good.

It left residue of knowledge: That some preconceived ideas about traffic management are based on nothing more substantial than theory and could be blown sky-high if the theories were tested.

There are thousands of traffic signals in this country that never should have been erected and thousands more that have outlived their usefulness and should be removed.

Khrushchev Or The Man From Mars

It used to be the man from Mars everybody thought about when it was time to see ourselves as others see us. Now it's Nikita Khrushchev.

Of the two, Khrushchev is handier, because he, himself, is something to be understood better. While he is examining us on his forthcoming visit, we'll be examining him, in the hope of reaching an understanding. We suspect this wouldn't be the case with the man from Mars, but let it go.

While everybody else has been ticking off things Khrushchev should be shown in the United States, our thoughts have been turning to things we'd be just as happy if he didn't see them—one in particular.

We saw it the other day when we went to the grocery store to take home a sack of potatoes. Or was it tomatoes? We forget.

We say "it," but we mean "them." What we saw was plural. It also was singular, but no numerically singular—just anatomically singular.

It was the all-American, Yankee Doodle Dandy come-as-you-are movement. It was life in the raw. Bear in mind this was a trip to a grocery store, not an excursion to a bathing beach.

There were people in sight who had come as they were, from the bedside and the bathroom. They were of both sexes. Our thoughts flew back to the dear, dead days when Mrs. Murphy used to chide Mr. Murphy for sitting on the front porch in his undershirt with his suspenders draped and his sock feet propped on the railing.

Here was Mrs. Murphy's daughter in a getup that would have had old man Murphy pretending he had something in his eye if he had seen it in the comparative privacy of his upstairs hall. And sure enough, there was Murphy, or something that looked like him, with no undershirt, no suspenders, no socks and scarcely any pants.

We never did get the potatoes, or whatever they were. We picked up a bottle of sedatives on the way out and went home to lie down while we mused about the possible impact of this sort of thing on Khrushchev. The Russians go in for mixed bathing in the nude, we've read somewhere. But they won't undress to buy potatoes.

Khrushchev might conclude we've no clothes to wear.

The Once Over

Cables between Nikita and Ike, as reported by our "Private Eye."

Time is getting near. Am packing lexicon of sharp digs and ready quips. How many pounds of these will U.S. Customs office allow me to bring in? What about Broadway confetti parade?—N.K.

Why give you Customs rules? You'll pay no attention. Don't expect big Broadway parade. You never swam channel or won British open.—Ike.

Can I get parade if I am first man to fly the Atlantic on a BROOM?—N.K.

You forget Kozlov and Mikoyan beat you to that.—Ike.

Are you the old Eisenhower or the new Eisenhower? It puzzles me.—N.K.

Are you the old, the new or the half-and-half Khurshchev. —Ike.

If I go on Sunday panel shows will you demand equal time?—N.K.

Only if you confuse them with media for revival of old-time vaudeville shows. Incidentally which would you prefer to see, Colorado River from the top of the Grand Canyon or the N.Y. Yankees from the top of the American league?—Ike.

What's the difference?—N.K.

What's this about you wearing one golf shoe on one foot and a regular shoe on another? I must have an explanation. The golf shoe suggests indirect aggression. I feel both feet should be friendly.—N.K.

I'm not planning belligerent footwork. I hope for similar assurance while I am in Russia. But find it hard to forget Gromyko's spiked shoe on one foot and reinforced leather boot on the other all through the Geneva conference. What shoes are you wearing at the U.N. meeting?—Ike.

The important thing about the U.N. meeting will be my Socks. Remember me to Nixon. But don't remember Nixon to me. —N.K.

Staten Island, which is being joined to New York by its first bridge, has been seen by comparatively few New Yorkers. It has been reachable only by ferry from the Gotham side. A haze on the far horizon; the infinite tender sky;
The ripe rich tint of the cornfield, and the Khrushchev sailing high;
And over Potomac and Volga the hum of fond hopes freshborn
Some of us look for the wisdom and others just look for "corn."

A New England telephone company has announced that you can dial 1122125551212 and get the information operator in New York. We tried it. First we phoned a company vice president and asked,, "Is it true about 1122125551212?"

"Would you mind repeating that?" he asked. We told him we certainly would and got the information operator. The number had by this time eluded us and we asked, "What's the number to be dialed for New York information?"

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed the girl. "Can you give me a clue? I had it but it's slipped my mind. Are you sure you want to continue? It's an awful way for either of us to start the day."

We demanded that she brace herself and give us the dial numbers. (There was no answer. It seemed she had been taken out of the box and a relief operator sent in from the bull pen.) "What number?" she asked. "Who?" we replied. "I dunno. You started this," was the reply.

Just heard of a GI who rejected that new all-purpose electronically equipped uniform with the comment, "No reverse gears."

When Do We Unmask?

We Could Learn From The British

By Victor Riesel

LONDON

Most of this past weekend the finest of Scotland Yard, some mighty bright agents of J. Edgar Hoover's FBI and several U.S. Secret Service men were busy preparing for the security of another visitor —by the name of Dwight D. Eisenhower. They ignored my talents. So I left them to their own devices and set out to discover why there are no crooks inside British labor, though some of our unions are part of the underworld.

Victor Riesel

Soon I was in the presence of Sir Cecil Crabbe, a genial guardian knight in modern black coat and striped trousers. Her Majesty, the Queen, appointed Sir Cecil to an odd-sounding post — registrar of Friendly Societies.

Strange as it sounds, if we had one in the United States we would have no crooks. We would not be the butt of mocking jibes across the world.

THE FOREIGN RADIO would not be talking of "American labor racketeering." No one could steal union funds. Not a single union member could be deprived of any of his rights. Nor would a penny of his dues or assessments go to support political candidates or parties he disliked.

Of all this, what intrigues me most is Sir Cecil's power to protect the funds of a union from political abuse. Especially in view of the uproar inside Congress today over a new labor law. The British are so calm about it all — and so effective.

Sir Cecil is modest about his powers. He called in his aides and we went through documents which show first that the Register of Friendly Societies is a list of associations running from building and loan outfits and ladies' marching groups (black sashes on display) to trade unions.

Labor organizations have to register if they want to avoid paying income tax on their "provident funds" — pension and welfare pools and investments.

Sir Cecil, who had never been interviewed before, asked me why I was so interested. I told him of crooks and muscle men and suppression of rights. "Incredible, he said, "incredible. Look here at our political section." I looked.

THE REGISTRAR has the power to enforce a law which says no union can spend any money out of its general funds on politics—for political meetings, literature, use of cars or expenses or support and maintenance (meaning a salary) of political candidates.

If a union wants to go into politics, it first has to write such a project into its constitution. This has to be passed by the membership. Then the program must be registered.

The union has to create a special political fund, which must be run along "Model Rules For Political Funds." These are inspected and guarded by Sir Cecil and his staff.

Sir Cecil explained that any union member can "contract out" of the political fund if he wants. The funds are created by union officials taking a small percentage of each member's dues and assessments.

If the member decides to "contract out," he merely fills out a form and sends it along to the proper officials. From that moment, the member's dues cannot be used for political purposes.

This means that no member can be forced to pay full dues if his money is being used for the distribution of any political literature or documents or in support of any candidate or, even more important, any prospective candidate.

The fact that every member of the union has the right to refuse to join in the union's political activity must be passed on to him by the union officials.

FURTHERMORE, the law says (and the registrar makes certain) that "a member who is exempt from the obligation to contribute to the political fund of the union shall not be excluded from any benefits of the union or placed in any respect either directly or indirectly under any disability or disadvantage as compared with other members of the union except in relation to control or management of the political fund of the union. . ."

If anybody picks on those members who don't want to kick in, the aggrieved members can go to the registrar. He makes a decision. That's it. The registrar can prosecute.

There have been cases where members have complained because a penny was taken out of their dues each period by a Communist controlled union without authorization. The registrar ruled this unlawful. It wasn't the penny. It was the principle.

Maybe the British could lend us Sir Cecil in exchange for all that tea we dumped some time back.

Facts And Figures

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The steel strike had been going on since July 15 and President Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell decided to do something about it, but in a very restrained way.

They hadn't taken sides. And they weren't taking sides now, although if the strike continues into late September the shortage of steel may create a national emergency.

The two men thought it might be worthwhile to give the public some facts and figures which various government agencies have gathered on steelworkers' earnings and productivity and on the steel industry's prices and profits.

The steel dispute really began early last May when negotiations started. But from the beginning both sides have dawdled in one of the most lackadaisical negotiations in American history.

And even now, with the strike costing 300 million dollars a week in production and 70 million dollars in wages, neither side shows a pressing anxiety to reach a settlement.

So just how laying down some facts and figures on wages and profits might hasten an agreement isn't at all clear. But Eisenhower and Mitchell decided to go ahead and make the figures public.

Mitchell announced Tuesday the government's figures would be unveiled at a news conference Wednesday afternoon.

As each reporter walked in he got a 42 - page, brown - paper covered booklet with masses of statistics and charts. The information it contained had been gathered from government agencies and some of it even from the steel industry itself.

The booklet had an explanatory foreward by Mitchell. In it he said: "There are no conclusions drawn in this booklet. The responsibility for a settlement of the strike rests upon management and labor in the industry."

If the President or Mitchell had drawn conclusions from the figures they produced, they would have been putting the heat on one side or the other in the dispute to get off the high horse.

But without such official conclusions, the result had to be every man for himself in deciding what the figures meant. The reporters realized this, of course, but were glad to see the government figures anyway.

But then they read elsewhere in Mitchell's foreward this statement: "Management and labor already know these facts."

One gray-haired reporter, who has been around Washington a long time and has never been easily impressed by the pronouncements of government officials, read that sentence from Mitchell's foreward to some of the reporters around him.

He said it reminded him of a couple of vaudeville comedians he saw once. One of them was lying on the stage, supposedly wounded in battle. The other said: "Tell me your name and I'll tell your mother."

But the one lying on the stage said: "You don't have to tell my mother. She knows my name."

This may have been a sardonic view of the situation after Eisenhower and Mitchell went to the trouble of gathering into one booklet a mass of information on steel profits and wages.

But it did point up the central question:

If the steel union and the steel industry know all these facts and after almost four months haven't made any progress toward a settlement, why should anyone think making the facts public will have any effect on either side?

Since the government isn't willing to go beyond saying "come on, boys, and get together," there is a pretty good chance there will be a steel strike for quite a while yet.

Lessons On Freedom

Two Advertisements Tell A Story

There's beginning to be a bit of sensitivity about what Nikita Khrushchev should hear or see or read while he is in the United States. If he is well advised and really wants to know how the capitalistic system functions, there are two advertisements published in the newspapers in the last few days which will tell him things that may surprise him. They constitute a dramatic lesson in economics.

David Lawrence

Pronouncement No. 1 is on the subject of inflation and shows that in America everybody has a right to speak out in the hope of influencing public opinion so as to bring about self restraint among organized groups. Remedies that in the Soviet Union would be applied by police or military force are left to the people of America themselves to work out through appeals to reason.

Pronouncement No. 2 gives the viewpoint of the steel companies in answer to a previous advertisement by the Steelworkers Union which had pointed to the profits of the employer companies as "fantastic," and had argued that these provide money enough to pay increased wages without a price rise. The steel companies reply that this year the "Steelworkers' increased pay outstripped the owners' dividend increase 86-1."

MORE IMPORTANT than the debate over whether the profits were large enough to pay more wage increases is the news contained in the statement by the steel companies as to what they did with their profits. The explanation was as follows:

"Roughly one-third of the profit was 'phantom profit' which had to be used to cover the inflated cost of replacing worn out tools and facilities. This one-third provided nothing for the owners — nothing for expansion. It had to be used just to stand still. Otherwise the steel industry would die a little each year as its plants wore out. And so would the jobs of its more than 600,000 employes and the invested savings of its more than one million shareowners.

"Another third or so of the profit went to meet the continuing need for improved or enlarged plants and equipment, necessary working capital, new sources of raw materials, new research facilities, and to improve productive effieiency generally. This was the 're-invested profit' that provides for America's industrial growth, sustains job security and steadily raises the standard of living of the American people.

"What was left of the profit — 268 million dollars — went to the owners of the steel companies in the form of dividends—the only payment they received from their companies for the use of all the tools that their savings have provided; and it represented an annual return of about 3 per cent on the present market value of their investment. That is about the same return you get on your savings account at the bank — less than on a government bond."

THIS DEBATE, revealing how the capitalistic system works, goes on in the midst of a strike that has tied up the entire steel industry and is an example of the free interplay of the forces of public opinion which will eventually influence a settlement of the dispute.

Pronouncement No. 1 was presented more graphically in an advertisement from another quarter. Classroom To Go Along As Students Tour World

By BILL FULWIDER
Columbus Dispatch Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The world will be their classroom.

Twenty-seven teenage students of the flying International School of America will take off Sept. 19 on the first lap of an around-the-world journey.

From then to late May 1960, the students will visit 13 countries, take mid-year examinations in Cairo, spend Christmas holidays in New Delhi and take final exams in London next spring.

Throughout their journey their classroom will go with them. They will study four basic, wide-ranging academic subjects, taught by five teachers, all with impressive backgrounds.

As important, they will study each country they visit.

The real aim of the school is to give students as much insight as possible into the countries, their peoples and their problems.

They will live with families in most countries an average of two or three weeks each.

They will go to school each day with native students, but will assemble in their own separate classroom for academic work.

In one country, they will live with American families to learn how they live overseas.

The itinerant students, representing 10 states, are mostly high school seniors. The rest are last year's graduates postponing college for one year to make the trip.

Passing work will qualify the seniors for graduation. They will return home to receive their diplomas next spring. For the post-graduates, it is an enrichment program.

The school is the idea and the result of five years' planning and sweat by a 29-year-old, mild-mannered former Columbus public school teacher, Karl Jaeger, a graduate of Ohio State and Harvard universities.

As his idea germinated, others, primarily businessmen friends of Jaeger, found it tempting. They put up the cash to establish the non-profit organization, the only one of its kind in the world. Its headquarters are in Columbus.

"People in business are very interested in education, but they often don't know how to do anything about it. I found a ready market for my idea," explains Jaeger.

"They (the students) won't come back authorities on these countries, but we want to make them aware of today's problems and motivate them to do something about them."

Most of the students come from well-to-do families since tuition is costly—$4,650 for the year. Three have full scholarships and seven or eight have partial scholarships. Nationwide Insurance Co. established one of the scholarships.

Jaeger will teach English and will be assisted by Dr. Lois Hartleyl Dr. Clarence E. Taft, of Ohio State, who helped Jaeger develop his idea, will teach a biology course ranging into agriculture, conservation, population, water supply and other aspects of foreign life.

Edgar Snow, noted author and longtime foreign correspondent for the Saturday Evening Post, will teach political and economic histories of the nations. Claude Roehrich, who speaks for languages, will teach French.

Jaeger's school has won the approval of the Ohio Department of Education, is chartered by the New York Board of Regents and has been helped in its planning by the United Nations and other world organizations.

Fraud Suspect Seen Free From Arrest In Brazil

NEW YORK (AP) — A former American corporation president, wanted in New York in connection with a 14 - million - dollar fraud against stockholders apparently is safe from arrest while in Brazil.

Lowell M. Birrell, 52, one-time president of the Swan-Finch Oil Corp., and board chairman of the Doeskin Products Corp. disappeared in 1957 and was found recently in Rio de Janeiro.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said Wednesday he thought at first he might get Birrell out of Brazil and back here to face fraud charges despite the lack of an extradition treaty between the U.S. and Brazil covering persons accused of crimes.

Later, Hogan said, the Brazilian government had "a change of mind" and now may decide to consider Birrell a political refugee.

Trucker Cited In City Mishap

A trucker forfeited a $16 bond today in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a mishap Wednesday at 1:55 p. m. in which his rig rammed the rear of a local man's auto, which was halted for a traffic light at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St.

Roland F. Griswold, 45, of Denville, N. J., driving a tractor-trailer owned by the Grand Transportation Co. of New York City, was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Police said his rig hit the rear of a 1955 sedan operated by Hobert W. Virden, 51, of 226 Walnut St. Griswold told police he saw the light was red and that Virden's auto was halted, but when he applied the brakes the rig skidded into the rear of the halted sedan.

Belated reports were on file today in connection with two other mishaps Tuesday.

A collision at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves. at 5:42 p. m. damaged a 1953 sedan operated by Joe Harry Jackson, 290 Haywood St., and a 1954 sedan driven by Priscilla Rice of Birmingham, Ala., police said.

A mishap at 6:20 p. m. at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. involved 1954 sedans driven by Paul A. Madison, 30, of 506 W. 9th St. and William Howard Owen, 37, of Stevenson Ave., Chester, police said.

2 Mirrors Still In Box Taken From Man's Car

Thomas J. Connor, 1107 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, told police two newly purchased fender mirrors—still in the box in which they came from the store—were stolen from his auto between 2:30 and 3 a. m. today while it was parked on St. Clair Ave.

The mirros were worth $14, Connor reported. The thief also damaged the radio antenna on his car, he said.

Meanwhile, Eddie Wilson of W. 6th St. told police Wednesday afternoon a tire and wheel were stolen from his auto while it was parked near his home.

Salineville

Miss Shirley, Eleanor and Violet Felton of Salem visited Tuesday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Felton, of R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Brandonisio and children, Paul and Joanne, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Adams and children, Diane and Marty, returned Monday from a vacation in the Canadian North Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Everson and daughters, Janice and Patty, of Middleport spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leasure Tennant of Salineville-Monroeville Rd. The daughters remained for a two-week visit.

Mrs. Dwaine Lutz and daughter, Betty Lou, of Kensington R. D. were business callers here Tuesday.

Division Manager Of Gas Firm To Retire On Sept. 1

W. T. (Bill) McIntyre, East Liverpool division manager for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., will retire Sept. 1.

McIntyre has been in the natural gas business 43 years. He worked three years for Hope Natural Gas Co. at Waynesburg, Pa., before going with Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. in 1919.

He won his first promotion—to meter inspector—and was transferred to Washington, Pa., in 1924. He came to East Liverpool four years later and was promoted to outside foreman in Steubenville in 1937. He returned to East Liverpool as manager in 1943 and was named division manager when Ohio Valley Gas took over the area last January.

McIntyre, 65, was born in Washington, Pa., and was graduated from Immaculate Conception High School there in 1912. He is a Fourth Degree member of the Knights of Columbus and belongs to the Rotary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, who reside at 217 W. 4th St., plan to return to Waynesburg after his retirement.

Woman 100, Not 99

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Mary A. McGraw celebrated her 98th birthday anniversary last year. This year she is 100. A family friend, the Rt. Rev. Joseph M. O'Connor, checked her birth certificate and found she was born Aug. 17, 1859, not in 1860, as she had believed.

Principles Against Staying Here

Judge Rules Four Boys Must Return To Moscow

CHICAGO (AP)—The four young Kozmin brothers, who have become as much American as any crew-cut, blue-jeaned youngsters down the street, soon will rejoin their parents in Russia in a home they never knew.

A circuit court judge ruled Wednesday that the four boys—Richard, 12; George, 11; Paul, 10, and Peter, 3—must be returned to their parents in Moscow because it would be contrary to American principles to keep them here.

The parents, George, 55, and Nadejda, 37, returned to their native land voluntarily in 1957. Despite Russian protests, the boys were kept here as court wards. Since then, they had become the pawns in an international custody case.

They are looking forward to the reunion with their parents, a County Welfare Department official said.

The boys, speak and understand only English. The three older ones came to the United States in 1950 with their parents, former slave laborers under the Nazi Germans.

Judge Thomas Kluczynski said the boys want to be together and to have a family life. The state failed to prove the parents are unfit to care for the children and the court should not be influenced by the fact that the parents have embraced a political belief that "is not in keeping with our own," the judge said.

He added that he had interviewed the three older lads and they said they would rather be with their parents in a home of their own in Russia than in a foster home in the United States.

Prayer Urged In U.S. On Khrushchev Arrival

Adm. Ben. Moreell, Pittsburgh, an active Episcopalian layman and retired board chairman of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., also urged that cities on Khrushchev's itinerary arrange special church services on the day of his visit.

Trucker Cited In City Mishap

A trucker forfeited a $16 bond today in Municipal Court as the aftermath of a mishap Wednesday at 1:55 p. m. in which his rig rammed the rear of a local man's auto, which was halted for a traffic light at Dresden Ave. and W. 9th St.

Roland F. Griswold, 45, of Denville, N. J., driving a tractor-trailer owned by the Grand Transportation Co. of New York City, was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Police said his rig hit the rear of a 1955 sedan operated by Hobert W. Virden, 51, of 226 Walnut St. Griswold told police he saw the light was red and that Virden's auto was halted, but when he applied the brakes the rig skidded into the rear of the halted sedan.

Belated reports were on file today in connection with two other mishaps Tuesday.

A collision at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves. at 5:42 p. m. damaged a 1953 sedan operated by Joe Harry Jackson, 290 Haywood St., and a 1954 sedan driven by Priscilla Rice of Birmingham, Ala., police said.

A mishap at 6:20 p. m. at E. 3rd and Walnut Sts. involved 1954 sedans driven by Paul A. Madison, 30, of 506 W. 9th St. and William Howard Owen, 37, of Stevenson Ave., Chester, police said.

2 Mirrors Still In Box Taken From Man's Car

Thomas J. Connor, 1107 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, told police two newly purchased fender mirrors—still in the box in which they came from the store—were stolen from his auto between 2:30 and 3 a. m. today while it was parked on St. Clair Ave.

The mirros were worth $14, Connor reported. The thief also damaged the radio antenna on his car, he said.

Meanwhile, Eddie Wilson of W. 6th St. told police Wednesday afternoon a tire and wheel were stolen from his auto while it was parked near his home.

Division Manager Of Gas Firm To Retire On Sept. 1

W. T. (Bill) McIntyre, East Liverpool division manager for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., will retire Sept. 1.

McIntyre has been in the natural gas business 43 years. He worked three years for Hope Natural Gas Co. at Waynesburg, Pa., before going with Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. in 1919.

He won his first promotion—to meter inspector—and was transferred to Washington, Pa., in 1924. He came to East Liverpool four years later and was promoted to outside foreman in Steubenville in 1937. He returned to East Liverpool as manager in 1943 and was named division manager when Ohio Valley Gas took over the area last January.

McIntyre, 65, was born in Washington, Pa., and was graduated from Immaculate Conception High School there in 1912. He is a Fourth Degree member of the Knights of Columbus and belongs to the Rotary Club.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, who reside at 217 W. 4th St., plan to return to Waynesburg after his retirement.

Woman 100, Not 99

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Mary A. McGraw celebrated her 98th birthday anniversary last year. This year she is 100. A family friend, the Rt. Rev. Joseph M. O'Connor, checked her birth certificate and found she was born Aug. 17, 1859, not in 1860, as she had believed.

Principles Against Staying Here

Judge Rules Four Boys Must Return To Moscow

CHICAGO (AP)—The four young Kozmin brothers, who have become as much American as any crew-cut, blue-jeaned youngsters down the street, soon will rejoin their parents in Russia in a home they never knew.

A circuit court judge ruled Wednesday that the four boys—Richard, 12; George, 11; Paul, 10, and Peter, 3—must be returned to their parents in Moscow because it would be contrary to American principles to keep them here.

The parents, George, 55, and Nadejda, 37, returned to their native land voluntarily in 1957. Despite Russian protests, the boys were kept here as court wards. Since then, they had become the pawns in an international custody case.

They are looking forward to the reunion with their parents, a County Welfare Department official said.

The boys, speak and understand only English. The three older ones came to the United States in 1950 with their parents, former slave laborers under the Nazi Germans.

Judge Thomas Kluczynski said the boys want to be together and to have a family life. The state failed to prove the parents are unfit to care for the children and the court should not be influenced by the fact that the parents have embraced a political belief that "is not in keeping with our own," the judge said.

He added that he had interviewed the three older lads and they said they would rather be with their parents in a home of their own in Russia than in a foster home in the United States.

Prayer Urged In U.S. On Khrushchev Arrival

WASHINGTON (AP)—A retired admiral today suggested a nationwide day of prayer to coincide with the arrival of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in the United States Sept. 15.

Adm. Ben. Moreell, Pittsburgh, an active Episcopalian layman and retired board chairman of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., also urged that cities on Khrushchev's itinerary arrange special church services on the day of his visit.

Interest Rates Start Another Climb

Costlier Loans, Tighter Money Seen

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Still costlier loans and still tighter money are predicted today.

Interest rates already are starting another climb. There are more complaints from home builders of trouble in finding someone to lend them money against a mortgage.

Part of this is due to the policy of the nation's money managers. They've wanted credit to be tight to stave off a speculative boom that could spur fresh inflation—an old-fashioned word which President Eisenhower's Cabinet committee on price stability for economic growth now refers to as "rises in the general price level."

But bankers here insist that most of the reason for tighter money isn't Washington policy itself. It's the law of supply and demand. People are slowing down on their rate of savings. At the same time they—either as individuals or as managers of business or as officials of federal, state or local governments—have been stepping up their demand for loans.

When the demand for money grows faster than the supply—fed by savings normally, or by the printing presses abnormally—interest rates go up.

It's this squeeze in which the secretary of the Treasury finds himself. He has to borrow money because the government is spending more just now than it is taking in from the taxpayers; billions of dollars worth of outstanding securities are coming due and can be repaid only by borrowing more money (known as refunding the debt); and holders of savings bonds are redeeming them in greater volume than others are buying new ones.

The secretary is having trouble selling bonds because investors can get a higher return from several other kinds of investments. That's why the Treasury wanted Congress to let it pay higher yields on savings bonds.

The Treasury can compete with other borrowers in the short-term money market because there is no legal limit on the interest it pays—and that charge is now the highest in years.

But the law forbids the treasury to pay more than 4¼ per cent interest on any bond running for five years or longer. The House Ways and Means Committee has just pigeonholed President Eisenhower's request to let the Treasury pay more. And the secretary says he can't find any one who'll lend him money at the present rate.

Bankers here say that with the Treasury now confined to doing all it's borrowing at short term, the market will get all the tighter and tend to force interest rates higher.

Prevention Of Disease Main Health Department Objective

LISBON — According to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner, the principal objective of public health is the prevention of disease.

Consequently, its most important program is communicable and chronic disease control. Prevention of communicable diseases cannot be considered as a separate and isolated program, he said, but is integrated into its other programs, especially sanitation and school health.

For example, the adoption and enforcement of sewage regulations has almost abolished typhoid fever and effective restaurant inspection prevents the spread of tuberculosis, influenza and 25 other diseases through food-service operations. All of the Columbiana County Health Department's other sanitation services are likewise designed to prevent disease.

School immunization programs are related to the department's communicable disease control program and are an important factor in the fact that no diphtheria or paralytic polio has been reported in the county health district for over three years.

In 1958 the health department administered 2,379 diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw immunizations and 914 vaccinations. In 1957-1958, it gave 14,107 polio shots to all school children in the Columbiana County Health District whose parents consented.

In the public health aspect of tuberculosis, suspects and contacts reported by X-ray surveys and other sources are referred to the TB Control Clinic for diagnosis and treatment.

In 1958, the health department provided antibiotics to 76 rheumatic heart cases and supplied 15,798 treatment units to be administered by their physicians. The health nurses also investigated and followed up on cases of crippled children and cerebral palsy. They investigated the more serious communicable diseases reported by physicians.

In case of an epidemic, the health department is the only agency authorized by law to take control measures and put out the disease. State consultants are available to assist the department at any time in this or any other field of public health.

"Because of its reduced 1959 budget, the department had to dispense with the services of one of its two nurses, which means that some of its services had to be temporarily curtailed or discontinued. These services will be restored and improved when the necessary funds are provided," Dr. Palmer said. The department has submitted a two-tenths mill levy on the Nov. 3 ballot.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Sports Stars Fill The Air

Though the kinship between show business and sports eludes us, it's clear that they'll never need a home for the aged and infirm in the sports world as long as there's a TV - radio industry around.

Marie Torre

They just love old sports heroes in broadcasting, which probably is inhabited by more alumni from the arena than from Actors' Studio. The list is staggering. To mention a handful, there are Chuck Connors starring in "Rifleman," Phil Rizzuto in his third year as announcer for the Yankee baseball games, Rocky Graziano, John Beradino, Dizzy Dean, Bud Palmer, Leo Durocher, Gussie Moran.

And now Roy Campanella, the paralyzed Dodger catcher.

CAMPANELLA, who has learned the secret of rebirth, faces an active future in television and radio. For one thing, his (and Chris Schenkel's) "Campy's Corner," which enjoys wide syndication in radio, will be extended to television in half-hour syndicated form via WNEW next month.

For another, Campanella just arrived in California from New York to perform — yes, act — in a "Lassie" show that will be presented on CBS in the fall.

"Well, I don't know if you could call it acting," mused Campanella who gets around in a battery-powered wheelchair. "They have a story about Little League baseball players and I'll be around to coach 'em — from the wheelchair, of course."

Though he couldn't guarantee a polished performance, he was confident of a relaxed performance.

"IN MY ball - playing days, whenever I used to catch a fly ball, I was so preoccupied with what I was doing that I never even heard the audience hollering.

"Same thing happens to me on radio and television. When I'm talking with people, I'm so engrossed I forget there are mikes or cameras around. It probably helps, too, that I have a little ham in me. Doesn't everybody?"

While Campanella has no intention of exploiting his acting potential, he does hope to remain a fixture on the sports broadcasting scene.

"A sports show," he added, "is the logical place for players who don't or can't play ball any more. It's also logical for a sports show to hire a former athlete.

"Anybody who runs a sports show can be asked the darnedest questions, things he wouldn't know unless he was once a player. Well, because of my background, I'm not easily stumped. Yes sir, I'm at home, very much at home on a sports show."

-:-

THE LATEST Trendex report awards top status to "77 Sunset Strip," which is followed by the all-star baseball game in second place and the durable "I've Got a Secret" in third position. . . .

Bob Hope makes known that he's engaged, for his Oct. 8 show, all four Crosby boys — Philip, Dennis, Lindsay and Gary.

With all the concentration on specials next season (some 300 of them), the half - hour situation comedies conceivably could become known as "the uniques." . . .

Elvis Presley's arrangement with ABC for one appearance after his Army release calls for $100,000 for three songs. The network also will have to pay a second $100,000 tab if the show is re-run.

-:-

CLIFF ARQUETTE, funniest of the Jack Paar irregulars, signed a three-year contract with Don Fedderson Productions and made known that he'll be graduated to a show of his own in the fall. The program will be a half hour in length and will deal with "Charlie Weaver and his people," whatever that means. . . .

The "Cradle Song" presentation on "Hall of Fame" next April will star Helen Hayes, Judith Anderson and Siobhan McKenna, a trio that any Broadway theater would be proud to bill. . . .

Beatniks can be recommended to casting directors with short TV budgets. On a recent day, the "Lineup" show hired several beatniks as extras in an upcoming episode and when it came time to send pay checks, the accounting department could not find addresses or phone numbers for them. No real beatnik, you know, would be found dead with an address or phone number of his own.

Gang Foiled In Effort To Free Inmate

NAHANT, Mass. (AP)—A gang of 15 men, some armed with clubs and lengths of pipe, burst into the Nahant police station early today in a wild but futile attempt to free a prisoner.

The gang fled when a patrolman struck two of them with his revolver and fired a warning shot.

A short while later the seven became prisoners themselves on charges which included inciting a riot, attempting to free a prisoner, assault, assault and battery, and drunkenness.

Four of the gang were caught at a roadblock and three at the Lynn hospital where two had gone for treatment of bruises suffered in the scuffle in the police station.

Police Chief Banjamin Lamphier said the gang tried to liberate Donald Stinson, 27, of Swampscott, who was locked up on a drunkenness charge.

Patrolman Albert Badger said he was alone in the police station when the gang drove up in three automobiles.

He said he had time to utter only the word "Nahant" into the police radio before the men backed him against a wall.

Patrolman Joseph Flynn, driving a cruiser, heard the one-word message and the sound of several voices coming over the radio.

He sped to the station and found three men tampering with the door of the cell which held Stinson.

Flynn herded the trio upstairs, only to be pushed against a wall by the others. As one man threatened him with a club, he said, he pulled out his gun and struck two of them.

As the men were fleeing after Flynn fired a shot, Badget sounded an "assist" alarm over the police radio and help came from surrounding communities.

Army's Feud With Experts Looms Again

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — The long-standing feud between the Army and its enlisted scientists threatened to break into the open again today.

Some 400 young enlisted scientific and professional personnel at the Army chemical center here were ordered to fall out at 1 p.m. —in civilian clothes.

The lineup was called to help civilian witnesses identify some of the 60 or so men who celebrated at a beer party here last Thursday night.

Military authorities said they received complaints that obscene songs and statements uncomplimentary about the Army emanated from the festivities.

Just 11 months ago a similar party resulted in the court-martial of 11 men, mostly college graduates with degrees in engineering, mathematics, or the natural sciences.

Although the charges were drunk and disorderly conduct, the basic issue at the court-martial was the young scientists' rebellion against age-old military discipline.

Through their civilian lawyer and in press interviews, they complained they received little recognition for their work in Army laboratories and are taken out of the labs for KP duty and routine military training.

Like the earlier party, last Thursday's was held on civilian property near the post.

Trucker Draws Fine For Fight With Helper

A trucker was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of fighting with his helper in a case that started out originally as an assault and battery charge.

Judge George L. Brokaw decreed the fine for Kenneth Cline of Chester as an aftermath of a fight Monday in E. Drury Ln. between Cline and his helper, Harry Wooley, 115 Washington St.

Witnesses' accounts of the episode varied, but the two men agreed the incident was triggered when Cline told Wooley that he had stacked some dinette chairs improperly and they might be damaged. Wooley filed an assault charge against Cline, but the judge decided the evidence indicated the charge should be fighting. He fined Cline on the amended charge.

Industry Youth Wins Herriott Scholarship

An Industry youth was announced today as the recipient of the annual engineering scholarship offered by the Herriott Trucking Co. of East Palestine.

Kenneth C. Herriott, president, said the scholarship, which covers a full four-year course in engineering at the Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., has been awarded to William George Meyers, 18.

Selection is based on need and scholastic average. Meyers is the son of George Meyers of Midland and Mrs. Thelma Meyers of Industry.

He is a 1957 graduate of Midland High School, where he had an excellent scholastic record. Since his graduation, he has been employed as a member of the surveying team of Daniel C. Baker, a registered surveyor from Beaver.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

'Strengthen Home' Basis Of PTA Program

In her message in the June issue of the National Parent - Teacher, Mrs. James Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, reminds us of the action program based on the theme for the coming school year: "Strengthen the Home, Source of Our National Greatness."

By Garry Meyers

She says, "Without homes in which democratic values and responsibilities are learned, the nation falters and lags. The wellsprings of the nation's virtues, of its moral and intellectual excellence, are its homes."

—:—

THE JUNE issue of the National Parent - Teacher also announces, after years of hesitancy, a new department that is to make its first appearance in the September issue — "Estimates of TV Programs for Children."

It is to be "a sound, reliable and interesting digest of current TV offerings. These will be listed and evaluated by an experienced group of viewers."

We might expect from this leadership that many of the 12,000,000 PTA members will grow more aware of the kinds of TV programs their babies and children are viewing in the homes; that more of these parents will let the broadcasters and sponsors know which programs they consider wholesome and which they don't; and that more parents will, in the meanwhile, attempt to guide and control the TV viewing of their children.

One thing is certain:

Few parents are able to control the TV dial. Most children view what they choose to view and they naturally choose to view the most exciting programs, which predominate in Westerns and other types of violence, gore and horror.

SO ONE of the problems which each local PTA might well consider is how to re-establish parental home-control especially with young children; how to restore to parents reasonable authority they seem generally to have abdicated.

This problem is not limited to TV programs. It applies to all home regulations and relationships. It applies to the child's citizenship at home, at school and in the community — the opposite of juvenile delinquency.

Always in discussion of these problems there arises the need of more companionship, affection and security in the home.

I long have contended that there can hardly be much companionship and love in the home where the child doesn't learn early and continually the alphabet of obedience — learn that there are some things he must not do and some things he must do.

The biggest argument for adequate home discipline is the need for more love. But what parent can be always loving with the child who rarely minds her?

So let us hope that every PTA program this year will include such subjects as, Teaching Obedience in the Home, Teach Your Child to Respect the Rights and Feelings of Others, Shall We Expect the Child of School Age to Do Only What He Wants to Do?

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

The car slipped over the edge of embankment and William Copestick, the owner, was attempting to pull it with a chain and another car. Charles was in the car when the chain slipped loose, allowing the vehicle to roll down the hillside. The family said the car turned over several times. Ten stitches were needed to close the head wound.

Virginia Manypenny of Maine Blvd. cut her right hand on a piece of glass while washing dishes last night.

Jeanie Stout, 12, of 554 California Ave., Chester, suffered a laceration of the ear and head when struck by a swing last night.

The Gen. Nathanael Greene Homestead, in Anthony, R. I., was built in 1770. Greene was second in command to George Washington of American troops during the Revolution.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Sports Stars Fill The Air

Though the kinship between show business and sports eludes us, it's clear that they'll never need a home for the aged and infirm in the sports world as long as there's a TV - radio industry around.

Marie Torre

They just love old sports heroes in broadcasting, which probably is inhabited by more alumni from the arena than from Actors' Studio. The list is staggering. To mention a handful, there are Chuck Connors starring in "Rifleman," Phil Rizzuto in his third year as announcer for the Yankee baseball games, Rocky Graziano, John Beradino, Dizzy Dean, Bud Palmer, Leo Durocher, Gussie Moran.

And now Roy Campanella, the paralyzed Dodger catcher.

CAMPANELLA, who has learned the secret of rebirth, faces an active future in television and radio. For one thing, his (and Chris Schenkel's) "Campy's Corner," which enjoys wide syndication in radio, will be extended to television in half-hour syndicated form via WNEW next month.

For another, Campanella just arrived in California from New York to perform — yes, act — in a "Lassie" show that will be presented on CBS in the fall.

"Well, I don't know if you could call it acting," mused Campanella who gets around in a battery-powered wheelchair. "They have a story about Little League baseball players and I'll be around to coach 'em — from the wheelchair, of course."

Though he couldn't guarantee a polished performance, he was confident of a relaxed performance.

"IN MY ball - playing days, whenever I used to catch a fly ball, I was so preoccupied with what I was doing that I never even heard the audience hollering.

"Same thing happens to me on radio and television. When I'm talking with people, I'm so engrossed I forget there are mikes or cameras around. It probably helps, too, that I have a little ham in me. Doesn't everybody?"

While Campanella has no intention of exploiting his acting potential, he does hope to remain a fixture on the sports broadcasting scene.

"A sports show," he added, "is the logical place for players who don't or can't play ball any more. It's also logical for a sports show to hire a former athlete.

"Anybody who runs a sports show can be asked the darnedest questions, things he wouldn't know unless he was once a player. Well, because of my background, I'm not easily stumped. Yes sir, I'm at home, very much at home on a sports show."

-:-

THE LATEST Trendex report awards top status to "77 Sunset Strip," which is followed by the all-star baseball game in second place and the durable "I've Got a Secret" in third position. . . .

Bob Hope makes known that he's engaged, for his Oct. 8 show, all four Crosby boys — Philip, Dennis, Lindsay and Gary.

With all the concentration on specials next season (some 300 of them), the half - hour situation comedies conceivably could become known as "the uniques." . . .

Elvis Presley's arrangement with ABC for one appearance after his Army release calls for $100,000 for three songs. The network also will have to pay a second $100,000 tab if the show is re-run.

-:-

CLIFF ARQUETTE, funniest of the Jack Paar irregulars, signed a three-year contract with Don Fedderson Productions and made known that he'll be graduated to a show of his own in the fall. The program will be a half hour in length and will deal with "Charlie Weaver and his people," whatever that means. . . .

The "Cradle Song" presentation on "Hall of Fame" next April will star Helen Hayes, Judith Anderson and Siobhan McKenna, a trio that any Broadway theater would be proud to bill. . . .

Beatniks can be recommended to casting directors with short TV budgets. On a recent day, the "Lineup" show hired several beatniks as extras in an upcoming episode and when it came time to send pay checks, the accounting department could not find addresses or phone numbers for them. No real beatnik, you know, would be found dead with an address or phone number of his own.

Gang Foiled In Effort To Free Inmate

NAHANT, Mass. (AP)—A gang of 15 men, some armed with clubs and lengths of pipe, burst into the Nahant police station early today in a wild but futile attempt to free a prisoner.

The gang fled when a patrolman struck two of them with his revolver and fired a warning shot.

A short while later the seven became prisoners themselves on charges which included inciting a riot, attempting to free a prisoner, assault, assault and battery, and drunkenness.

Four of the gang were caught at a roadblock and three at the Lynn hospital where two had gone for treatment of bruises suffered in the scuffle in the police station.

Police Chief Banjamin Lamphier said the gang tried to liberate Donald Stinson, 27, of Swampscott, who was locked up on a drunkenness charge.

Patrolman Albert Badger said he was alone in the police station when the gang drove up in three automobiles.

He said he had time to utter only the word "Nahant" into the police radio before the men backed him against a wall.

Patrolman Joseph Flynn, driving a cruiser, heard the one-word message and the sound of several voices coming over the radio.

He sped to the station and found three men tampering with the door of the cell which held Stinson.

Flynn herded the trio upstairs, only to be pushed against a wall by the others. As one man threatened him with a club, he said, he pulled out his gun and struck two of them.

As the men were fleeing after Flynn fired a shot, Badget sounded an "assist" alarm over the police radio and help came from surrounding communities.

Army's Feud With Experts Looms Again

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — The long-standing feud between the Army and its enlisted scientists threatened to break into the open again today.

Some 400 young enlisted scientific and professional personnel at the Army chemical center here were ordered to fall out at 1 p.m. —in civilian clothes.

The lineup was called to help civilian witnesses identify some of the 60 or so men who celebrated at a beer party here last Thursday night.

Military authorities said they received complaints that obscene songs and statements uncomplimentary about the Army emanated from the festivities.

Just 11 months ago a similar party resulted in the court-martial of 11 men, mostly college graduates with degrees in engineering, mathematics, or the natural sciences.

Although the charges were drunk and disorderly conduct, the basic issue at the court-martial was the young scientists' rebellion against age-old military discipline.

Through their civilian lawyer and in press interviews, they complained they received little recognition for their work in Army laboratories and are taken out of the labs for KP duty and routine military training.

Like the earlier party, last Thursday's was held on civilian property near the post.

Trucker Draws Fine For Fight With Helper

A trucker was fined $10 and costs today in Municipal Court on a charge of fighting with his helper in a case that started out originally as an assault and battery charge.

Judge George L. Brokaw decreed the fine for Kenneth Cline of Chester as an aftermath of a fight Monday in E. Drury Ln. between Cline and his helper, Harry Wooley, 115 Washington St.

Witnesses' accounts of the episode varied, but the two men agreed the incident was triggered when Cline told Wooley that he had stacked some dinette chairs improperly and they might be damaged. Wooley filed an assault charge against Cline, but the judge decided the evidence indicated the charge should be fighting. He fined Cline on the amended charge.

Industry Youth Wins Herriott Scholarship

An Industry youth was announced today as the recipient of the annual engineering scholarship offered by the Herriott Trucking Co. of East Palestine.

Kenneth C. Herriott, president, said the scholarship, which covers a full four-year course in engineering at the Tri-State College at Angola, Ind., has been awarded to William George Meyers, 18.

Selection is based on need and scholastic average. Meyers is the son of George Meyers of Midland and Mrs. Thelma Meyers of Industry.

He is a 1957 graduate of Midland High School, where he had an excellent scholastic record. Since his graduation, he has been employed as a member of the surveying team of Daniel C. Baker, a registered surveyor from Beaver.

Bringing Up A Family

'Strengthen Home' Basis Of PTA Program

In her message in the June issue of the National Parent - Teacher, Mrs. James Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, reminds us of the action program based on the theme for the coming school year: "Strengthen the Home, Source of Our National Greatness."

By Garry Meyers

She says, "Without homes in which democratic values and responsibilities are learned, the nation falters and lags. The wellsprings of the nation's virtues, of its moral and intellectual excellence, are its homes."

-:-

THE JUNE issue of the National Parent - Teacher also announces, after years of hesitancy, a new department that is to make its first appearance in the September issue — "Estimates of TV Programs for Children."

It is to be "a sound, reliable and interesting digest of current TV offerings. These will be listed and evaluated by an experienced group of viewers."

We might expect from this leadership that many of the 12,000,000 PTA members will grow more aware of the kinds of TV programs their babies and children are viewing in the homes; that more of these parents will let the broadcasters and sponsors know which programs they consider wholesome and which they don't; and that more parents will, in the meanwhile, attempt to guide and control the TV viewing of their children.

One thing is certain:

Few parents are able to control the TV dial. Most children view what they choose to view and they naturally choose to view the most exciting programs, which predominate in Westerns and other types of violence, gore and horror.

SO ONE of the problems which each local PTA might well consider is how to re-establish parental home-control especially with young children; how to restore to parents reasonable authority they seem generally to have abdicated.

This problem is not limited to TV programs. It applies to all home regulations and relationships. It applies to the child's citizenship at home, at school and in the community — the opposite of juvenile delinquency.

Always in discussion of these problems there arises the need of more companionship, affection and security in the home.

I long have contended that there can hardly be much companionship and love in the home where the child doesn't learn early and continually the alphabet of obedience — learn that there are some things he must not do and some things he must do.

The biggest argument for adequate home discipline is the need for more love. But what parent can be always loving with the child who rarely minds her?

So let us hope that every PTA program this year will include such subjects as, Teaching Obedience in the Home, Teach Your Child to Respect the Rights and Feelings of Others, Shall We Expect the Child of School Age to Do Only What He Wants to Do?

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Glassworkers Set Dues Boost Vote For International

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of the United Glass & Ceramics Workers Union will be asked if they want to give their international union a bigger slice of local dues dollars.

Delegates at a special union convention here Wednesday agreed to call for another eight per cent of the dues, boosting the share from 37 to 45 per cent.

The 50,000 members will vote on the plan in a referendum election.

Ralph Reiser, international president, called the plan a "victory for the trade union movement." He said it would add about $150,000 to the union's income.

The meeting was called when the organization found itself in a poor financial position.

Delegates also voted to keep intact an emergency dues split imposed by the executive board when funds became low.

They also voted to remove a constitutional requirement for "lost time" payment to members on certain grievance procedures. They added a requirement for payment of one per cent dues during vacation periods.

Mountain Fell, Then Water Came, Quake Survivors Relate

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — The mountain fell first—and then the water came.

That's the account of a California dentist and his friends who survived the Madison Canyon earthquake and avalanche below Hebgen Dam Monday night.

Dr. Reed Quesnell of Arcadia, Calif., gave the account when questioned concerning a theory that water spilling over the dam raced through the canyon and swept some campers away before the mountain collapsed.

"Not so," said Dr. Quesnell. "First came the earthquake. Then the mountain collapsed into the canyon. And after that came a wave of water. This wave is what hit and injured a number of those hurt in the disaster."

Dr. Quesnell, his wife, and two friends and their families — Sam Kuening of Lakewood, Calif., and Ike Kuening of La Puente, Calif. —said they believed an unknown number of campers in the area were buried by the big slide.

"We have vacationed there every summer for 10 years," Dr. Quesnell said. "And every year there have been the same two trailers in the same place. They were there again this year, so close to the river they could fish from their doors. And those two trailers did not come out of the canyon when we were evacuated Wednesday. There undoubtedly are many others buried with them."

Glassworkers Set Dues Boost Vote For International

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of the United Glass & Ceramics Workers Union will be asked if they want to give their international union a bigger slice of local dues dollars.

Delegates at a special union convention here Wednesday agreed to call for another eight per cent of the dues, boosting the share from 37 to 45 per cent.

The 50,000 members will vote on the plan in a referendum election.

Ralph Reiser, international president, called the plan a "victory for the trade union movement." He said it would add about $150,000 to the union's income.

The meeting was called when the organization found itself in a poor financial position.

Delegates also voted to keep intact an emergency dues split imposed by the executive board when funds became low.

They also voted to remove a constitutional requirement for "lost time" payment to members on certain grievance procedures. They added a requirement for payment of one per cent dues during vacation periods.

Mountain Fell, Then Water Came, Quake Survivors Relate

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — The mountain fell first—and then the water came.

That's the account of a California dentist and his friends who survived the Madison Canyon earthquake and avalanche below Hebgen Dam Monday night.

Dr. Reed Quesnell of Arcadia, Calif., gave the account when questioned concerning a theory that water spilling over the dam raced through the canyon and swept some campers away before the mountain collapsed.

"Not so," said Dr. Quesnell. "First came the earthquake. Then the mountain collapsed into the canyon. And after that came a wave of water. This wave is what hit and injured a number of those hurt in the disaster."

Dr. Quesnell, his wife, and two friends and their families — Sam Kuening of Lakewood, Calif., and Ike Kuening of La Puente, Calif. —said they believed an unknown number of campers in the area were buried by the big slide.

"We have vacationed there every summer for 10 years," Dr. Quesnell said. "And every year there have been the same two trailers in the same place. They were there again this year, so close to the river they could fish from their doors. And those two trailers did not come out of the canyon when we were evacuated Wednesday. There undoubtedly are many others buried with them."

Indians Halt Skid; Chisox Lose

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A right reluctant bunch of pennant contenders, these Cleveland Indians. They lose four in a row, blowing leads in three of them, and almost make it five—getting the cushion they needed on a bases-loaded walk.

Cleveland junked the slump with a 5-4 decision over last place Washington Wednesday night, moving within 3½ games of Chicago in the American League race after the White Sox had been spilled 3-1 by Baltimore in an afternoon game.

The Injuns did some blowing in this one, too, after building a 4-1 lead on homers by Woody Held and Jim Baxes and making it 5-1 when reliever Camilo Pascual gave up a fourth-inning triple to Vic Power then walked three in a row.

New York came from five runs back and beat Detroit 10-5. Kansas City beat Boston 6-3.

In the National League, third place Milwaukee moved within three games of first place San Francisco as Lew Burdette beat the Giants 5-2 with a six-hitter and became the majors' top winner with 17. Second place Los Angeles stayed two games behind, losing 9-4 when Cincinnati scored seven runs in the eighth inning.

The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia played a 7-7, 12-inning curfewed tie after the Phils took the opener of the twi-night pair 4-1. St. Louis beat Pittsburgh 8-6 in 10 innings in the completion of a July 12 suspended game, but the Bucs won the regularly scheduled game 4-2.

Rookie Larry Locke saved it for the Indians and Cal McLish (15-6), coming on with none out in the eighth after the Nats had scored three runs on Bob Allison's 28th homer and Harmon Killebrew's 37th.

Held's 22nd home run broke a 1-1 tie for the Indians in the second inning against loser Bill Fischer (8-9).

Baltimore beat the White Sox and Bob Shaw (12-4) on Bob Boyd's two-run single with two out in the first. Billy O'Dell (7-10) was the winner.

Frank Lary (15-8), who had won seven in a row from the Yankees since July of last year, was chased in a four-run fifth. Marv Throneberry and Hector Lopez hammered two-run homers for the Yankees while Whitey Ford (13-6) won his fifth in a row with 5 2-3 innings of shutout relief. The Tigers scored their five against Eli Grba and Bob Turley.

Bud Daley, (15-7) beat the Red Sox with a four-hitter giving up Dick Gernert's 10th home run and Jackie Jensen's 25th. Frank Sullivan (7-8) was the loser.

Dickey Hurls Two-Hitter; Cox's Gain Playoff Finals

Jim Dickey, who has been plagued by an arm injury since last spring, returned to his old form Wednesday and pitched Cox Construction into the finals of the City League playoff.

The strong armed righthander gave up only two hits in a game called after six innings because of darkness.

In the six-inning stretch, he struck out 10 batters in Cox5s 5-2 victory over the East Liverpool Merchants.

Cox's now will meet Lawrenceville for the City League playoff championship. No date has been set for the series.

Only Duck Rogers and John Andrason were able to solve Dickey's pitches and both Merchants runs, one in the third and the other in the sixth, came as a result of errors.

Cox's had five miscues in the field Wednesday.

The winners collected five hits off loser John Zawoysky, including a home run by Purdue's Bernie Allen in the first inning and doubles by Dickey and Bob Campbell Sr.

Allen's roundtripper staked Dickey and Cox's to a 1-0 lead. The Merchants tied the score at 1-1 in the third, but Cox's comeback with two runs in the bottom of third to go ahead for good.

Rubber City Golf Tourney Starts Today

By FRITZ HOWELL

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The $22,000 Rubber City Open Golf Tournament starts today, and it could provide a stepping stone into the big time for the hottest freshman on the tour.

That would be bespectacled Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn. Mason, a 25-year-old turned pro just a year ago, has played in eight tournaments and has finished in the money in all of them for a $3,100 payoff.

No newcomer to the play-for-pay circuit ever has had such an auspicious start.

The Tennessee youngster who won a host of amateur tournaments is up against some tough opposition here in the sixth annual Akron event.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor is the defending Rubber City Open champion. Wall leads golfdom's money winners with $48,499.

Nineteen of the game's 25 top money winners are in the field of 113 professionals and 19 amateurs who tee off over Firestone Country Club's 6,635-yard, par-71 course in quest of the $2,800 top prize.

The other former winners since the Rubber City Open became a big money event are in this sixth annual tournament—Tommy Bolt and Arnold Palmer.

Doug Ford, who has won money in his last 28 tournaments, is rated a favorite. Ford was second last week in Detroit to Mike Souchak who is not participating here.

Dow Finsterwald's 65 was the hottest practice round Tuesday, and Wednesday Dick Knight, Dave Ragan and J. C. Goosie shot 67s.

After 18 holes of medal play today and Friday the field will be cut to the low 60 pros and low 10 amateurs for the 18-hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The youngest driver to win harness racing's famous Hambletonian was 29-year-old Harry Harvey in 1953. The oldest was Ben Shively, who was 72 when he won in 1952.

Will Demand Heavy Damages

Trautman Charges Third League Ignored Minors

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, today charged the newly organized Continental League with completely ignoring the minors in its efforts to gain major league status.

Trautman's accusation came after chiefs of top individual minor circuits said they would demand heavy damages, totaling around $8,000,000 from the proposed circuit for invasion of their territories.

"I keep reading about a number of our cities being considered for inclusion in this new league," said Trautman, "but never once have we been approached by these people. I think it would be a sort of courteous thing if we were considered. There have been numerous conferences but we've never been invited to attend any of them."

"We've never resisted any of our cities that desired to become major," he said. "But we've got a structure that must be preserved. I'm sure a man like Branch Rickey (president of the Continental League) is aware of this as well as I am, and he knows that any league affected must be consulted.

"After all, there are human beings and peoples' livelihoods they are dealing with. You don't just pick up baseball clubs as you would a bunch of bananas.

"Our leagues cannot be destroyed by a mere wave of the hand without being adequately compensated and getting other cities as replacements. We've got to find cities and towns, realign, get the players and we can't do it by waving a wand.

"We want to help this new league and we can but at the same time we don't want them to destroy us. All we want to do is survive."

Phil Hewitt Named MVP In Non-Pro Tournament

Phil Hewitt of Georgetown, one-time property of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been selected as the "most valuable" player in the Pennsylvania Non-Pro tournament held recently at Midland.

Hewitt also was named the player who made the most spectacular play in the tourney.

He played right field for Midland USW, which won its fourth Non-Pro championship.

The particular play which brought Hewitt the honor came in the fourth inning of the finals against Wampum.

Rich Allen of Wampum sent a line drive to right field near the fence. Hewitt, racing with his back to the infield, caught the ball over hs head, crashed into the fence but managed to hold on for the out.

The play by Hewitt was termed one of the "great saves" of the tourney by Commissioner Art Petrosky.

Fullmer-Basilio Fight Looms As Real Donnybrook

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fred Apostoli, top middleweight 20 years ago, is certain the Gene Fullmer-Carmen Basilio Aug. 28 NBA middleweight title fight will be a donnybrook worthy of any championship.

He's also certain things can't be as confusing in the 160-pound division as they were when he wore at least a chunk of the crown in 1938-39.

"To this day I don't know what the title was," Apostoli said. "It was fouled up from the time Mickey Walker retired in 1931 until Tony Zale cleared it up by beating Georgie Adams 10 years later."

Now the situation is again muddled. The National Boxing Assn. stripped Ray Robinson of the world title and sanctioned the Basilio-Fullmer Cow Palace 15-rounder.

The winner will be recognized as champion in NBA territory, everywhere in the U.S. but New York and Massachusetts.

After watching Basilio and Fullmer, both former world champions in a non-disputed era, Apostoli enthusiastically predicted their fight would equal any middleweight brawl.

He refused to pick a winner, but predicted a knockout within 10 rounds.

New Jersey has 463 state parks and forests.

Indians Halt Skid; Chisox Lose

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A right reluctant bunch of pennant contenders, these Cleveland Indians. They lose four in a row, blowing leads in three of them, and almost make it five—getting the cushion they needed on a bases-loaded walk.

Cleveland junked the slump with a 5-4 decision over last place Washington Wednesday night, moving within 3½ games of Chicago in the American League race after the White Sox had been spilled 3-1 by Baltimore in an afternoon game.

The Injuns did some blowing in this one, too, after building a 4-1 lead on homers by Woody Held and Jim Baxes and making it 5-1 when reliever Camilo Pascual gave up a fourth-inning triple to Vic Power then walked three in a row.

New York came from five runs back and beat Detroit 10-5. Kansas City beat Boston 6-3.

In the National League, third place Milwaukee moved within three games of first place San Francisco as Lew Burdette beat the Giants 5-2 with a six-hitter and became the majors' top winner with 17. Second place Los Angeles stayed two games behind, losing 9-4 when Cincinnati scored seven runs in the eighth inning.

The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia played a 7-7, 12-inning curfewed tie after the Phils took the opener of the twi-night pair 4-1. St. Louis beat Pittsburgh 8-6 in 10 innings in the completion of a July 12 suspended game, but the Bucs won the regularly scheduled game 4-2.

Rookie Larry Locke saved it for the Indians and Cal McLish (15-6), coming on with none out in the eighth after the Nats had scored three runs on Bob Allison's 28th homer and Harmon Killebrew's 37th.

Held's 22nd home run broke a 1-1 tie for the Indians in the second inning against loser Bill Fischer (8-9).

Baltimore beat the White Sox and Bob Shaw (12-4) on Bob Boyd's two-run single with two out in the first. Billy O'Dell (7-10) was the winner.

Frank Lary (15-8), who had won seven in a row from the Yankees since July of last year, was chased in a four-run fifth. Marv Throneberry and Hector Lopez hammered two-run homers for the Yankees while Whitey Ford (13-6) won his fifth in a row with 5 2-3 innings of shutout relief. The Tigers scored their five against Eli Grba and Bob Turley.

Bud Daley, (15-7) beat the Red Sox with a four-hitter giving up Dick Gernert's 10th home run and Jackie Jensen's 25th. Frank Sullivan (7-8) was the loser.

Dickey Hurls Two-Hitter; Cox's Gain Playoff Finals

Jim Dickey, who has been plagued by an arm injury since last spring, returned to his old form Wednesday and pitched Cox Construction into the finals of the City League playoff.

The strong armed righthander gave up only two hits in a game called after six innings because of darkness.

In the six-inning stretch, he struck out 10 batters in Cox5s 5-2 victory over the East Liverpool Merchants.

Cox's now will meet Lawrenceville for the City League playoff championship. No date has been set for the series.

Only Duck Rogers and John Andrason were able to solve Dickey's pitches and both Merchants runs, one in the third and the other in the sixth, came as a result of errors.

Cox's had five miscues in the field Wednesday.

The winners collected five hits off loser John Zawoysky, including a home run by Purdue's Bernie Allen in the first inning and doubles by Dickey and Bob Campbell Sr.

Allen's roundtripper staked Dickey and Cox's to a 1-0 lead. The Merchants tied the score at 1-1 in the third, but Cox's comeback with two runs in the bottom of third to go ahead for good.

Rubber City Golf Tourney Starts Today

By FRITZ HOWELL

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The $22,000 Rubber City Open Golf Tournament starts today, and it could provide a stepping stone into the big time for the hottest freshman on the tour.

That would be bespectacled Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn. Mason, a 25-year-old turned pro just a year ago, has played in eight tournaments and has finished in the money in all of them for a $3,100 payoff.

No newcomer to the play-for-pay circuit ever has had such an auspicious start.

The Tennessee youngster who won a host of amateur tournaments is up against some tough opposition here in the sixth annual Akron event.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor is the defending Rubber City Open champion. Wall leads golfdom's money winners with $48,499.

Nineteen of the game's 25 top money winners are in the field of 113 professionals and 19 amateurs who tee off over Firestone Country Club's 6,635-yard, par-71 course in quest of the $2,800 top prize.

The other former winners since the Rubber City Open became a big money event are in this sixth annual tournament—Tommy Bolt and Arnold Palmer.

Doug Ford, who has won money in his last 28 tournaments, is rated a favorite. Ford was second last week in Detroit to Mike Souchak who is not participating here.

Dow Finsterwald's 65 was the hottest practice round Tuesday, and Wednesday Dick Knight, Dave Ragan and J. C. Goosie shot 67s.

After 18 holes of medal play today and Friday the field will be cut to the low 60 pros and low 10 amateurs for the 18-hole rounds Saturday and Sunday.

The youngest driver to win harness racing's famous Hambletonian was 29-year-old Harry Harvey in 1953. The oldest was Ben Shively, who was 72 when he won in 1952.

Will Demand Heavy Damages

Trautman Charges Third League Ignored Minors

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, today charged the newly organized Continental League with completely ignoring the minors in its efforts to gain major league status.

Trautman's accusation came after chiefs of top individual minor circuits said they would demand heavy damages, totaling around $8,000,000 from the proposed circuit for invasion of their territories.

"I keep reading about a number of our cities being considered for inclusion in this new league," said Trautman, "but never once have we been approached by these people. I think it would be a sort of courteous thing if we were considered. There have been numerous conferences but we've never been invited to attend any of them."

"We've never resisted any of our cities that desired to become major," he said. "But we've got a structure that must be preserved. I'm sure a man like Branch Rickey (president of the Continental League) is aware of this as well as I am, and he knows that any league affected must be consulted.

"After all, there are human beings and peoples' livelihoods they are dealing with. You don't just pick up baseball clubs as you would a bunch of bananas.

"Our leagues cannot be destroyed by a mere wave of the hand without being adequately compensated and getting other cities as replacements. We've got to find cities and towns, realign, get the players and we can't do it by waving a wand.

"We want to help this new league and we can but at the same time we don't want them to destroy us. All we want to do is survive."

Phil Hewitt Named MVP In Non-Pro Tournament

Phil Hewitt of Georgetown, one-time property of the Philadelphia Phillies, has been selected as the "most valuable" player in the Pennsylvania Non-Pro tournament held recently at Midland.

Hewitt also was named the player who made the most spectacular play in the tourney.

He played right field for Midland USW, which won its fourth Non-Pro championship.

The particular play which brought Hewitt the honor came in the fourth inning of the finals against Wampum.

Rich Allen of Wampum sent a line drive to right field near the fence. Hewitt, racing with his back to the infield, caught the ball over hs head, crashed into the fence but managed to hold on for the out.

The play by Hewitt was termed one of the "great saves" of the tourney by Commissioner Art Petrosky.

Other awards included: Longest hit ball — Stan Derry, Levittown; best-dressed team, Ford City; team sportsmanship, Freeport; individual sportsmanship, George Kalasso, Clarence; team traveling farthest distance, Levittown.

Best hustling team, Moses Service, New Castle; best prospect, Rich Allen; leading pitcher, Tom Yancy, Wampum; leading hitter, Jack Byzak (632) Freeport; best young team, Moses Service, New Castle; most popular team, Wampum.

Midland placed six on the 16-man all-state team. The squad includes: Catchers, John Perrty, Wampum and Sam Claypool, Freeport; Pitchers, Tom Yancy, Bob Bleggi, Moses Service; Ed Smrekar, Midland; Bob Sedlak, Fawn Twp.

First base, Len Williams, Levittown; second base, Fran Haus, Midland; third base, Bob Mucci, Levittown, and shortstop, George Siford, Midland; outfielders, Byzak, Hewitt and John Swogger of Wampum.

George Bradshaw of Midland and Dean Wagner of Ford City were chosen as utility men.

Fullmer-Basilio Fight Looms As Real Donnybrook

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fred Apostoli, top middleweight 20 years ago, is certain the Gene Fullmer-Carmen Basilio Aug. 28 NBA middleweight title fight will be a donnybrook worthy of any championship.

He's also certain things can't be as confusing in the 160-pound division as they were when he wore at least a chunk of the crown in 1938-39.

"To this day I don't know what the title was," Apostoli said. "It was fouled up from the time Mickey Walker retired in 1931 until Tony Zale cleared it up by beating Georgie Adams 10 years later."

Now the situation is again muddled. The National Boxing Assn. stripped Ray Robinson of the world title and sanctioned the Basilio-Fullmer Cow Palace 15-rounder.

The winner will be recognized as champion in NBA territory, everywhere in the U.S. but New York and Massachusetts.

After watching Basilio and Fullmer, both former world champions in a non-disputed era, Apostoli enthusiastically predicted their fight would equal any middleweight brawl.

He refused to pick a winner, but predicted a knockout within 10 rounds.

Burdette Tops San Francisco For 17th Pitching Victory

Reds Explode For 9-4 Win Over Los Angeles

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Burdette's done his share. Now can Warren Spahn return Milwaukee's two aces to normalcy?

It was Burdette and Spahn, winning back-to-back, who put the Braves in command through the first half of the season. But they haven't been able to win in tandem in more than two weeks and Milwaukee has skidded from first to third in the National League race.

Burdette, the lean right-hander, got half of the comeback job done Wednesday night, winning his 17th, tops in the majors, with a six-hitter that beat San Francisco 5-2 and pushed the Braves within three games of the first place Giants.

Now Spahn, working with a day's rest after a losing three-inning relief job as Milwaukee dropped two of three to Los Angeles, is to come back as a starter in the finish of the two-game series tonight.

Burdette's victory also closed the Braves within a game of third place Los Angeles. The Dodgers were held two games back of the Giants when Cincinnati exploded a seven-run eighth inning for a 9-4 victory.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-2 after the Cards had won the completion of a July 12 suspended game 8-6 in 10 innings. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in the opener of a twi-night pair, then played a 7-7 tie stopped after 12 innings by curfew.

In the American League, Chicago's lead was pared to 3½ games again when Baltimore beat the White Sox 3-1 and second place Cleveland defeated Washington 5-4. New York beat Detroit 10-5 and Kansas City rapped Boston 6-3.

A fifth-inning home run by Del Crandall, his 15th, cracked a 1-1 tie for the Braves and Burdette's single then brought home the clincher in a two-run seventh. Jack Sanford (12-10) was the loser.

The Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead built with Chuck Essegian's first homer in the second. The Reds scored two in the fourth, then beat Sandy Koufax (6-4) when a two-run pinch single by Jerry Lynch put them ahead in the eighth. Jim Brosnan (7-5), was the winner.

Four singles gave the Cards two runs in the 10th inning of the suspended game against Bob Porterfield (0-2). Lindy McDaniel (13-11) won it. The Pirates won the regularly scheduled game on Smoky Burgess' RBI single in a two-run sixth after the Cards had taken a 2-0 lead against Vern Law (14-7). Rookie Bob Gibson (1-2) lost it.

Earl Averill's home run cracked a 6-6 tie for the Cubs in the 12th, but the Phils deadlocked it again on Harry Hanebrink's triple before the curfew sounded. The Phils won the opener on a three-hitter by Gene Conley (12-7) and a three-run sixth, against Glen Hobbie (12-10).

Pena Was Best Pitcher, But Didn't Get Credit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Orlando Pena was far and away the best pitcher to perform in Cincinnati's Crosley Field Wednesday night but scoring rules kept him from being credited with the Reds' 9-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers scored three runs and knocked over starter Joe Nuxhall in one and a third innings. That brought in Pena.

In the next 5 2-3 innings he didn't allow a hit, struck out eight and didn't allow a man to reach base until there was one out in the seventh.

Pena was lifted for a pinch hitter in the last of the seventh and then in the eighth the Reds went on a scoring binge that produced seven runs and wiped out a 3-2 Dodger lead. But Jim Brosnan, who had relieved Pena at the start of the eighth, got credit for the victory even though he was knocked out in the ninth.

The rules provide that winning relief pitcher is one who is the pitcher of recrod when his team assumes the lead and keeps it. That would be Brosnan.

But regardless of the winning pitcher, it was a notable victory for the Reds. It gave them a 12-7 edge over the Dodgers and clinched a season series margin—the first time since 1944 that Cincinnati has won a season series from either the Brooklyn or Los Angeles versions of the Dodgers.

Things didn't look too good for the Reds after the Dodgers hopped on Nuxhall for three runs in the first two innings. They might have had more in the first inning if Wally Moon hadn't been picked off trying to go to second on a single and if Rip Repulski hadn't been caught off first.

In the second Chuck Essegian homered after Norm Larker's double and Nuxhall left after Don Zimmer singled and an error put another Dodger on base.

From there on Pena was the master of the situation.

The Reds finally got two of the runs back in the fourth when Vada Pinson singled and Frank Robinson hit his 28th home run of the season.

That ended the scoring until the Reds exploded in the eighth off Sandy Koufax, Roger Craig and Clem Labine. Four of the runs came before a man was retired.

Singles by Pinson and Gus Bell and a walk to Robinson loaded the bases. Pinch hitter Jerry Lynch singled home two runs. Robinson scored when he beat Charley Neal's throw to the plate on Willie Jones' grounder. Ed Bailey singled Lynch home.

A single by Johnny Temple and a double by Pinson accounted for three more runs.

Two singles and two walks gave the Dodgers their final run in the ninth. Brooks Lawrence, relieving Brosnan, pitched the fourth ball to Jim Gilliam to force in the run but then Neal hit into a double play to end the game.

Sauer Finally Hangs 'Em Up

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The playing days of another of baseball's great sluggers are over. Big Hank Sauer has hung up his glove without fanfare.

The 40-year-old outfielder retired Wednesday to make room for youth on the San Francisco Giants' roster. He immediately was given a coaching job.

"It's a tough thing to admit you're through, but the time has to come," Sauer said. "And the time is now for me. My reflexes are gone and I can't get around on a pitch like I should."

Sauer looked around the clubhouse after the Giants had dropped a 5-2 decision to the Milwaukee Braves and pointed to such stars as Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and Jackie Brandt.

"This is the game for them," he said. "There isn't room for fellows like me. That's the reason I have to step out."

Sauer, whose 6-foot-4, 200-pound built belies his age, was relegated to a pinchhitting role by the Giants this season. He managed only one hit in 15 times at bat. That was a home run, No. 288 of his National League career.

Sauer was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he hit 37 homers and drove in 121 runs for the Chicago Cubs, and was voted to the All-Star team twice. He first came up to the majors with Cincinnati in 1941.

Brown, Groza And Brown May Overcome Problems

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three giant-size assets figure to get the Cleveland Browns back into the National Football League title picture this year, despite pressing quarterback and tackle problems.

The assets are fullback Jim Brown's flying feet, tackle Lou Groza's talented tow, and the resourcefulness of canny Coach Paul Brown.

Recently promoted quarterback Jim Ninowski, who had a shaky start as the Browns took a 34-20 defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh in the opening exhibition, is the big signal-calling question mark.

But Coach Brown says he believes Jim will get the job done in an acceptable manner.

The ticklish tackle situation evolves around the offensive setup. Mike McCormack, team captain and up-front stalwart, is out with a knee injury. Brown had planned to relegate Groza, the great place-kicker, from a regular tackle job to a relief role, but McCormack's misfortune forced the 35-year-old veteran to return to full time duty.

The Brown's aren't too deep at the offensive tackle berths, and the holes must be plugged if Ninowski is to get adequte pass protection.

The Browns have enough running threats to keep the opposing defense honest. Fullback Brown set a league rushing record of 1527 yards in 257 tries last year, and tied the touchdown record with 18. Groza added 60 points on field goals and conversions, so he and Brown counted 168 of the team's 302 total.

Intense speed at end and halfback, plus improved pass-catching, should help the Browns as they attempt to win their 12th division title in 14 years extending through their All-America Conference and National League career.

Moore Stops Kid Bassey In 11th To Retain Title

By PATRICK MCNULTY
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A title fight with Lightweight Champion Joe Brown may be in the works for World Featherweight Champion Davey Moore, who Wednesday night stopped Hogan (Kid) Bassey in 11 rounds.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, said the Brown fight was fine with him "providing the money is right."

Moore, who bombed out Bassey, said he isn't trying to invade other divisions. But he added:

"Frankly, I'd like to meet (World Bantamweight Champion Jose) Becerra for my featherweight championship. But, I'm in this business for the money and I'll fight anybody if the price is right."

Matchmaker George Parnassus, who masterminded the Moore-Bassey title fight, said a Moore-Brown battle for the lightweight title would be a natural.

A Moore-Becerra featherweight title scrap would be a natural too, especially in Los Angeles, where the large Mexican population idolizes the little 118-pound champ from Mexico. But Becerra is committed for an October rematch with Alphonse Halimi of France, from whom he won the title last month.

Moore stopped Bassey so convincingly at the Olympic Auditorium that the little battler from British West Africa was asked to retire by his manager, George Biddles.

Bassey, who appeared at a press party with dark glasses hiding a swollen right eye and a bandage over a badly bruised right hand, said:

"This is not a decision I can make in a moment. I must think it over."

Sharp-shooting Moore, who took the title from Bassey last March, counter-punched Bassey into a tottering derelict at the end of the 10th round.

Bassey sprawled on his stool and refused to come out for the 11th round.

A crowd of 7,450 paid a gross gate of $47,100.40 to watch the scrap, which was televised nationally over the ABC network.

Columbus Wins, 5-4; Tie For Second Place

By The Associated Press

Occupants of the cellar a while back, the Columbus Jets today are tied for second place in the International League.

The Jets moved into a tie with Havana for the runner-up spot as they nipped Miami 5-4 Wednesday night while the Sugar Kings were losing to Richmond 7-3.

League-leading Buffalo retained its 6½-game lead despite being four-hit by Don Johnson in a 6-1 Toronto triumph.

The Jets, sprung to an early lead by Bob Thorpe's three-run homer in the third inning, needed to score a run in the ninth without a hit to win it. The Marlins closed to within a run in the ninth on Leo Burke's two-run homer but with two on and two out pinch hitter Jose Valdivielso grounded out.

Four of West Virginia's football defeats in 1958 came by a total of 17 points.

Top hands on high-country hauls!
Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever!
Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is, lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

Burdette Tops San Francisco For 17th Pitching Victory

Reds Explode For 9-4 Win Over Los Angeles

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lew Burdette's done his share. Now can Warren Spahn return Milwaukee's two aces to normalcy?

It was Burdette and Spahn, winning back-to-back, who put the Braves in command through the first half of the season. But they haven't been able to win in tandem in more than two weeks and Milwaukee has skidded from first to third in the National League race.

Burdette, the lean right-hander, got half of the comeback job done Wednesday night, winning his 17th, tops in the majors, with a six-hitter that beat San Francisco 5-2 and pushed the Braves within three games of the first place Giants.

Now Spahn, working with a day's rest after a losing three-inning relief job as Milwaukee dropped two of three to Los Angeles, is to come back as a starter in the finish of the two-game series tonight.

Burdette's victory also closed the Braves within a game of third place Los Angeles. The Dodgers were held two games back of the Giants when Cincinnati exploded a seven-run eighth inning for a 9-4 victory.

Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-2 after the Cards had won the completion of a July 12 suspended game 8-6 in 10 innings. Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-1 in the opener of a twi-night pair, then played a 7-7 tie stopped after 12 innings by curfew.

In the American League, Chicago's lead was pared to 3½ games again when Baltimore beat the White Sox 3-1 and second place Cleveland defeated Washington 5-4. New York beat Detroit 10-5 and Kansas City rapped Boston 6-3.

A fifth-inning home run by Del Crandall, his 15th, cracked a 1-1 tie for the Braves and Burdette's single then brought home the clincher in a two-run seventh. Jack Sanford (12-10) was the loser.

The Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead built with Chuck Essegian's first homer in the second. The Reds scored two in the fourth, then beat Sandy Koufax (6-4) when a two-run pinch single by Jerry Lynch put them ahead in the eighth. Jim Brosnan (7-5), was the winner.

Four singles gave the Cards two runs in the 10th inning of the suspended game against Bob Porterfield (0-2). Lindy McDaniel (13-11) won it. The Pirates won the regularly scheduled game on Smoky Burgess' RBI single in a two-run sixth after the Cards had taken a 2-0 lead against Vern Law (14-7). Rookie Bob Gibson (1-2) lost it.

Earl Averill's home run cracked a 6-6 tie for the Cubs in the 12th, but the Phils deadlocked it again on Harry Hanebrink's triple before the curfew sounded. The Phils won the opener on a three-hitter by Gene Conley (12-7) and a three-run sixth, against Glen Hobbie (12-10).

May Face Joe Brown Next

Moore Stops Kid Bassey In 11th To Retain Title

By PATRICK MCNULTY
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A title fight with Lightweight Champion Joe Brown may be in the works for World Featherweight Champion Davey Moore, who Wednesday night stopped Hogan (Kid) Bassey in 11 rounds.

Moore's manager, Willie Ketchum, said the Brown fight was fine with him "providing the money is right."

Moore, who bombed out Bassey, said he isn't trying to invade other divisions. But he added:

"Frankly, I'd like to meet (World Bantamweight Champion Jose) Becerra for my featherweight championship. But, I'm in this business for the money and I'll fight anybody if the price is right."

Matchmaker George Parnassus, who masterminded the Moore-Bassey title fight, said a Moore-Brown battle for the lightweight title would be a natural.

A Moore-Becerra featherweight title scrap would be a natural too, especially in Los Angeles, where the large Mexican population idolizes the little 118-pound champ from Mexico. But Becerra is committed for an October rematch with Alphonse Halimi of France, from whom he won the title last month.

Moore stopped Bassey so convincingly at the Olympic Auditorium that the little battler from British West Africa was asked to retire by his manager, George Biddles.

Bassey, who appeared at a press party with dark glasses hiding a swollen right eye and a bandage over a badly bruised right hand, said:

"This is not a decision I can make in a moment. I must think it over."

Sharp-shooting Moore, who took the title from Bassey last March, counter-punched Bassey into a tottering derelict at the end of the 10th round.

Bassey sprawled on his stool and refused to come out for the 11th round.

Pena Was Best Pitcher, But Didn't Get Credit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Orlando Pena was far and away the best pitcher to perform in Cincinnati's Crosley Field Wednesday night but scoring rules kept him from being credited with the Reds' 9-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers scored three runs and knocked over starter Joe Nuxhall in one and a third innings. That brought in Pena.

In the next 5 2-3 innings he didn't allow a hit, struck out eight and didn't allow a man to reach base until there was one out in the seventh.

Pena was lifted for a pinch hitter in the last of the seventh and then in the eighth the Reds went on a scoring binge that produced seven runs and wiped out a 3-2 Dodger lead. But Jim Brosnan, who had relieved Pena at the start of the eighth, got credit for the victory even though he was knocked out in the ninth.

The rules provide that winning relief pitcher is one who is the pitcher of recrod when his team assumes the lead and keeps it. That would be Brosnan.

But regardless of the winning pitcher, it was a notable victory for the Reds. It gave them a 12-7 edge over the Dodgers and clinched a season series margin—the first time since 1944 that Cincinnati has won a season series from either the Brooklyn or Los Angeles versions of the Dodgers.

Things didn't look too good for the Reds after the Dodgers hopped on Nuxhall for three runs in the first two innings. They might have had more in the first inning if Wally Moon hadn't been picked off trying to go to second on a single and if Rip Repulski hadn't been caught off first.

In the second Chuck Essegian homered after Norm Larker's double and Nuxhall left after Don Zimmer singled and an error put another Dodger on base.

From there on Pena was the master of the situation.

The Reds finally got two of the runs back in the fourth when Vada Pinson singled and Frank Robinson hit his 28th home run of the season.

That ended the scoring until the Reds exploded in the eighth off Sandy Koufax, Roger Craig and Clem Labine. Four of the runs came before a man was retired.

Singles by Pinson and Gus Bell and a walk to Robinson loaded the bases. Pinch hitter Jerry Lynch singled home two runs. Robinson scored when he beat Charley Neal's throw to the plate on Willie Jones' grounder. Ed Bailey singled Lynch home.

A single by Johnny Temple and a double by Pinson accounted for three more runs.

Two singles and two walks gave the Dodgers their final run in the ninth. Brooks Lawrence, relieving Brosnan, pitched the fourth ball to Jim Gilliam to force in the run but then Neal hit into a double play to end the game.

Sauer Finally Hangs 'Em Up

MILWAUKEE (AP) —The playing days of another of baseball's great sluggers are over. Big Hank Sauer has hung up his glove without fanfare.

The 40-year-old outfielder retired Wednesday to make room for youth on the San Francisco Giants' roster. He immediately was given a coaching job.

"It's a tough thing to admit you're through, but the time has to come," Sauer said. "And the time is now for me. My reflexes are gone and I can't get around on a pitch like I should."

Sauer looked around the clubhouse after the Giants had dropped a 5-2 decision to the Milwaukee Braves and pointed to such stars as Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda, Willie Kirkland and Jackie Brandt.

"This is the game for them," he said. "There isn't room for fellows like me. That's the reason I have to step out."

Sauer, whose 6-foot-4, 200-pound built belies his age, was relegated to a pinchhitting role by the Giants this season. He managed only one hit in 15 times at bat. That was a home run, No. 288 of his National League career.

Sauer was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1952 when he hit 37 homers and drove in 121 runs for the Chicago Cubs, and was voted to the All-Star team twice. He first came up to the majors with Cincinnati in 1941.

Brown, Groza And Brown May Overcome Problems

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three giant-size assets figure to get the Cleveland Browns back into the National Football League title picture this year, despite pressing quarterback and tackle problems.

The assets are fullback Jim Brown's flying feet, tackle Lou Groza's talented tow, and the resourcefulness of canny Coach Paul Brown.

Recently promoted quarterback Jim Ninowski, who had a shaky start as the Browns took a 34-20 defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh in the opening exhibition, is the big signal-calling question mark.

But Coach Brown says he believes Jim will get the job done in an acceptable manner.

The ticklish tackle situation evolves around the offensive setup. Mike McCormack, team captain and up-front stalwart, is out with a knee injury. Brown had planned to relegate Groza, the great place-kicker, from a regular tackle job to a relief role, but McCormack's misfortune forced the 35-year-old veteran to return to full time duty.

The Brown's aren't too deep at the offensive tackle berths, and the holes must be plugged if Ninowski is to get adequte pass protection.

The Browns have enough running threats to keep the opposing defense honest. Fullback Brown set a league rushing record of 1527 yards in 257 tries last year, and tied the touchdown record with 18. Groza added 60 points on field goals and conversions, so he and Brown counted 168 of the team's 302 total.

Intense speed at end and halfback, plus improved pass-catching, should help the Browns as they attempt to win their 12th division title in 14 years extending through their All-America Conference and National League career.

Hearing, Overhearing

Wifely Remarks Wear Out Hubby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Wifely remarks that husbands get tired of hearing—and overhearing:

"Joe, I gave you the best years of my life, and I ask you—what did it get me?"

"Your pay envelop was 40 cents short. Are you keeping another woman?"

"When I think of all the men I could have married."

"If you expect me to go on spoiling you like your mother did, you've got another think coming."

"Yes, my lord and master, what is it you want now?"

"I don't care if she is your boss's wife. I don't have to bow and scrape before anybody."

"Why is it we practically never go out any more? Are you ashamed of me—or what?"

"It won't take me a minute. I'm all ready except for putting on a dab of lipstick."

"Well, if Joe's going to have one for the road, you might as well pour me too one—I mean, one, too."

"Oh, don't tell that old joke, dear. I've heard it a thousand times."

"Joe, you never heard a word I say."

"If there is such a thing as another life, I'm going to come back a man. Men think they're the kings of the earth."

"Joe used to go fishing with his pals, but now I go with him. I always say, a family that plays together stays together."

"It isn't that I really mind your playing poker, but don't you ever win?"

"Well, if you want my advice."

"You can't mean that's the one you were crazy about in college, Joe. She looks like the moths had been at her."

"Joe, are you listening to me?"

"You can play Boy Scout in the backyard if you want to, but the rest of us are going to eat in the house like civilized people."

"Every husband in the neighborhood carries more life insurance than you. Some men care about their family's welfare."

"Sure I used to be jealous over Joe—when he had hair."

"Joe, we used to have so much to say to each other. Why is it we never talk anymore."

Reds Free To Listen To Foreign Broadcasts

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets are quite free to listen to foreign radio broadcasts, Radio Moscow said today.

"Not only are we allowed to hear foreign radio broadcasts but we do," said a commentator.

Practically every set on sale in the Soviet Union has a short-wave band, Moscow said, "and that means everybody has all the chance in the world to tune in to foreign broadcasts."

The broadcaster made no mention of the frequent Soviet jamming of Western programs.

O'Neal was arrested here Aug. 1 on a federal charge of fleeing to avoid prosecution. He is accused of taking part in the robbery in which the store owner fatally shot Joe Zsabo, whom police said was with O'Neal.

Conspiracy Charges Dropped Against 6 Convicted Ohioans

CLEVELAND (AP) — The government Wednesday dropped conspiracy charges against six Ohioans, convicted three years ago of Smith Act violations.

Their conviction after a lengthy trial in Cleveland was reversed by the U.S. District Court of Appeals and a retrial was ordered. The government identified all of them as members of the Communist Party.

They are Frank Hashmall, 39, former youth director of the Ohio section of the party; Anthony Krchmarek, 61, former Ohio party chief; George Watt, 49, once the party's national labor secretary; Mrs. Lucille Bethencourt, 31, former Lorain, Ohio, party leader; and Joseph Brandt, 49, and Martin Chancey, 51.

Charges against them were "reluctantly dropped," said Russell E. Ake, district attorney, because "We can't meet the requirements set down by the Supreme Court in the Yates case."

The Supreme Court held that the government, in prosecuting under the Smith Act, must show that persons were inciting immediate action to overthrow the government.

In reversing the 1956 conviction of the six, the Court of Appeals held on May 24, 1958, that "the record does not contain evidence enough to support conviction on a charge of conspiracy to overthrow the government."

The trial before Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee took three months to complete, during which more than a million words of testimony were taken.

The men were sentenced to five-year terms and the woman received a 2½ year sentence.

Charges against them were dropped formally today when Judge McNamee granted a motion by the government to dismiss the case.

Decision Waited On Strike Fund For Engineers

CLEVELAND (AP)—By Friday international officers of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers may decide whether to assess the union's 50,000 members to build a strike fund of several million dollars.

Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer, said the union's advisory board meeting here began considering the strike fund Wednesday and probably would say Friday whether the fund would be created.

"We want to be in a strong position in the event the railroads force a strike on us," Brown said.

General chairmen representing engineers on more than 100 railroads also are meeting here today to discuss changes in working rules which expire Nov. 1. The railroads some time ago issued public statements calling for changes in these rules to eliminate what they termed featherbedding.

Utah Lad Wins $300 For Robot He Built

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Utah lad won $300 Wednesday with a four-foot robot which has a quart can for a head and a brain constructed from a pinball machine.

Theo Thompson, 18, demonstrated his robot at the Western Electronic Show, winning fourth prize in the future engineer's show.

His robot scooted across the floor, shook its head, blinked its eyes, sang songs, stooped and asked scientists, "How do you do, sir?"

Hearing, Overhearing

Wifely Remarks Wear Out Hubby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Wifely remarks that husbands get tired of hearing—and overhearing:

"Joe, I gave you the best years of my life, and I ask you—what did it get me?"

"Your pay envelop was 40 cents short. Are you keeping another woman?"

"When I think of all the men I could have married."

"If you expect me to go on spoiling you like your mother did, you've got another think coming."

"Yes, my lord and master, what is it you want now?"

"I don't care if she is your boss's wife. I don't have to bow and scrape before anybody."

"Why is it we practically never go out any more? Are you ashamed of me—or what?"

"It won't take me a minute. I'm all ready except for putting on a dab of lipstick."

"Well, if Joe's going to have one for the road, you might as well pour me too one—I mean, one, too."

"Oh, don't tell that old joke, dear. I've heard it a thousand times."

"Joe, you never heard a word I say."

"If there is such a thing as another life, I'm going to come back a man. Men think they're the kings of the earth."

"Joe used to go fishing with his pals, but now I go with him. I always say, a family that plays together stays together."

"It isn't that I really mind your playing poker, but don't you ever win?"

"Well, if you want my advice."

"You can't mean that's the one you were crazy about in college, Joe. She looks like the moths had been at her."

"Joe, are you listening to me?"

"You can play Boy Scout in the backyard if you want to, but the rest of us are going to eat in the house like civilized people."

"Every husband in the neighborhood carries more life insurance than you. Some men care about their family's welfare."

"Sure I used to be jealous over Joe—when he had hair."

"Joe, we used to have so much to say to each other. Why is it we never talk anymore."

Reds Free To Listen To Foreign Broadcasts

LONDON (AP)—The Soviets are quite free to listen to foreign radio broadcasts, Radio Moscow said today.

"Not only are we allowed to hear foreign radio broadcasts but we do," said a commentator.

Practically every set on sale in the Soviet Union has a short-wave band, Moscow said, "and that means everybody has all the chance in the world to tune in to foreign broadcasts."

The broadcaster made no mention of the frequent Soviet jamming of Western programs.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Frank L. O'Neal, 30, of Punta Gorda, Fla., has waived extradition and will be returned to Canton, Ohio, today, authorities said. He faces charges connected with a grocery store robbery July 18.

Board Adopts Budget, Plans Term Opening

The 1960 budget estimated at over $300,000 was adopted by the Southern Local Board of Education at a meeting Wednesday night at Wayne School.

The budget will be sent the Columbiana County Budget Commission for study and approval.

In other business, plans were completed for the opening of schools Sept. 1 and let contracts for various school supplies.

The students will attend a full day of classes the opening day. Cafeterias will begin operating on Sept. 2. A teachers' meeting will be held Monday morning Aug. 31, at the Salineville cafeteria. In the afternoon the teachers will go to their respective schools to check books and set up their programs.

A questionnaire will be sent home the first day with all students in the system regarding polio immunization. All first graders will be given immunization shots for whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox Sept. 8. No polio shots will be given until the compulsory state law is clarified, the board said.

The school schedules will operate primarily the same as last year and all buses will travel the same routes, the board said. The schools will remain on Daylight Savings Time through September, reverting to Standard Time about Oct. 5.

Nickles Bakery was given a contract for supplying bread for the cafeterias. Three milk contracts were let. Russel Dairy of Wellsville will provide No. 16 School, Golden Star Dairy of East Liverpool and will serve Wayne School and the Milhorn Dairy of Salineville will supply Highlandtown and Salineville.

The Saline Oil Co. of Salineville was awarded a contract for gasoline and oil for buses. The firm will install tanks and electric pumps at Highlandtown and No. 16 Schools.

The 12 buses will be serviced with four each at Ideal Chevrolet in Wellsville, Hart Motors in Salineville and Lewis Motors at Lisbon. Tire service will be provided by Brown & Nicholson of Alliance. The tires on four buses at Wayne will be serviced in Lisbon.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Dianne Runciman as a fifth and sixth grade teacher at Highlandtown. The post remains open.

The next meeting will be Sept. 11 at Salineville High School.

450 Attend Playground Outing At Thompson

Some 450 children from the Recreation Council's 14 playgrounds and parents attended the annual outing at Thompson Park Wednesday, the final event of the season.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there any remedy when the bottom of a trash can has rusted out?

A. Prolong the life of the can by use of a wood or cardboard disk. If the can has tapered sides, cut the disk slightly oversize so that it will fit tightly against the sides just above the original bottom. Use angle brackets if the can has straight sides. Paint the disk and inside of the can with some roofing cement to make a good job of renovation.

Q. What is a first aid remedy for sunstroke?

A. Loosen the clothing of the patient, remove him into the shade immediately, and apply ice cold water to the head.

Q. How can I remove a freshly-baked cake from its tin more easily?

A. Place the cake tin on a cold damp cloth for a few minutes after removing it from the oven.

Board Adopts Budget, Plans Term Opening

The 1960 budget estimated at over $300,000 was adopted by the Southern Local Board of Education at a meeting Wednesday night at Wayne School.

The budget will be sent the Columbiana County Budget Commission for study and approval.

In other business, plans were completed for the opening of schools Sept. 1 and let contracts for various school supplies.

The students will attend a full day of classes the opening day. Cafeterias will begin operating on Sept. 2. A teachers' meeting will be held Monday morning Aug. 31, at the Salineville cafeteria. In the afternoon the teachers will go to their respective schools to check books and set up their programs.

A questionnaire will be sent home the first day with all students in the system regarding polio immunization. All first graders will be given immunization shots for whooping cough, diphtheria and small pox Sept. 8. No polio shots will be given until the compulsory state law is clarified, the board said.

The school schedules will operate primarily the same as last year and all buses will travel the same routes, the board said. The schools will remain on Daylight Savings Time through September, reverting to Standard Time about Oct. 5.

Nickles Bakery was given a contract for supplying bread for the cafeterias. Three milk contracts were let. Russel Dairy of Wellsville will provide No. 16 School, Golden Star Dairy of East Liverpool and will serve Wayne School and the Milhorn Dairy of Salineville will supply Highlandtown and Salineville.

The Saline Oil Co. of Salineville was awarded a contract for gasoline and oil for buses. The firm will install tanks and electric pumps at Highlandtown and No. 16 Schools.

The 12 buses will be serviced with four each at Ideal Chevrolet in Wellsville, Hart Motors in Salineville and Lewis Motors at Lisbon. Tire service will be provided by Brown & Nicholson of Alliance. The tires on four buses at Wayne will be serviced in Lisbon.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Dianne Runciman as a fifth and sixth grade teacher at Highlandtown. The post remains open.

The next meeting will be Sept. 11 at Salineville High School.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. Is there any remedy when the bottom of a trash can has rusted out?

A. Prolong the life of the can by use of a wood or cardboard disk. If the can has tapered sides, cut the disk slightly oversize so that it will fit tightly against the sides just above the original bottom. Use angle brackets if the can has straight sides. Paint the disk and inside of the can with some roofing cement to make a good job of renovation.

Q. What is a first aid remedy for sunstroke?

A. Loosen the clothing of the patient, remove him into the shade immediately, and apply ice cold water to the head.

Q. How can I remove a freshly-baked cake from its tin more easily?

A. Place the cake tin on a cold damp cloth for a few minutes after removing it from the oven.

Ohio's Top Plowmen Will Vie In Annual Competition Today

EATON, Ohio (AP)—The average city dweller may think plowing a field is just a routine part of operating a farm, but there's an art to it, too.

And today an estimated 5,000 persons were to gather on a farm, two and a half miles south of West Alexandria, to watch Ohio's top plowmen in action.

The event is the annual Ohio Conservation Field Day and Plowing Contest held this year at the Nevin Grice farm on Ohio 503.

In addition to the level land and contour plowing contests, there were exhibits of the latest farm machinery. A special program was planned for the ladies throughout the day and Lt. Gov. John Donahey was to speak when the new champions are crowned in mid-afternoon.

Both of last year's champions were to be on hand to defend their titles. They are Raymond Poos of Eaton, who won the 1958 level land plowing contest, and Wilbur Rase of Wheelersburg, last year's contour plowing champ.

Poos put his level land title on the block during the forenoon against John McCarty of Peebles; Paul Miller of Lowell; Richard Cleaves of Continental; Robert Cook of Urbana; Howard Will of Vermillion, and James Guckian of Camden.

Four were to compete against Rase in the contour event in the afternoon and they included Duane Mootz of Hillsboro, who won the 1957 national championship and competed in the international contest in Germany. The others are John Rech of Marietta, Robert Griesser of Springfield and Daniel Postlethwait of Mogadore.

Ohio Girl Struck At Red-Run Rally Promoting GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Van Wert, Ohio, girl, who was struck by a guard at the recent Communist-run youth rally at Vienna says she was promoting the Republican Party while at the rally.

"I was infiltrating the American group," said Miss Anita Tanner, 20. She is a summer worker at the national Republican committee.

She said she suspected perhaps 90 people in the 350-member U.S. Delegation to the festival of being at least pro-communist.

The vast majority of the Americans, she said, were Democrats.

Miss Tanner related at a news conference Wednesday that when she told the delegation of the Republican victories in Hawaii they nearly threw her out.

The incident with the guard came as she was handing out material for the Department of Agriculture.

Step To Be Taken On Deportation Trial For Lias

WHEELING (AP) — A certificate of readiness for a deportation trial concerning William G. (Big Bill) Lias of Wheeling probably will be filed in U. S. District Court at Washington when the court convenes in October.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John F. Doyle said in Washington that no certificate of readiness has been filed for Lias' trial but indicated it would be done in October.

The federal government has obtained testimony that school records list Lias' birthplace as Gythion, Greece. Michael G. A. Mazarakis, an official with the Greek Embassy in Washington, gave such testimony in a deposition taken by attorneys for Lias and the government, it was reported.

Lias' attorneys wanted to learn the basis for the government's claim that he is an alien who is in this country illegally.

The former Wheeling Downs race track owner said he was born in Wheeling in 1900. The government contends that Lias was born in Gythion in 1900 and came to the United States in 1909.

Parents who cannot afford the expense of immunization for each child may take them on the office of the Jefferson County Board of Health in Steubenville on Wednesday of each week.

All transportation schedules are the same as last term, Supt. Henderson said.

Issues Similar To Steel

200,000 Meat Processing Workers Threaten Strike

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—A walkout of nearly 200,000 workers in the giant meat processing industry next month was threatened today on issues similar to those involved in the continuing steel strike.

Union officials said the industry's two major unions, the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and the Packinghouse Workers, have met much the same management wage freeze and other proposals for stockyard workers as were experienced in the steel dispute.

AFL-CIO leaders, meeting in summer session here, expressed concern that the steel strike is a symptoms of what they consider a growing management refusal to give workers a share in expanding industry profits.

The International Union of Electrical Workers, voting a $100,000 donation to the steel strikers, said big business generally has decided to "wreck the hard-won gains of workers" and reverse the system of sharing profits with labor.

The two meat industry unions, after nearly a month of bargaining, have met an almost solid front of packer proposals to freeze present wage rates, averaging about $2.50 an hour.

In a further similarity to the steel bargaining picture, the packing unions say they also face company proposals to give employers a freer hand in achieving manpower and other economies.

Like the steel strikers, the meat processing workers seek wage boosts of about 15 cents per hour.

Members of the AFL-CIO Executive Council were expected to approve today a plan to mobilize all AFL-CIO unions behind the steel strike.

The plan includes a rally of all union officers at San Francisco on Sept. 18, as part of the AFL-CIO's biennial convention, in behalf of the steel strikers.

Cold War Plan Outdate, Claims British Laborite

LAKESIDE, Ohio (AP)—A Laborite member of parliament in Great Britain said in a speech here Wednesday night "the cold war plan of today is outdated and we are faced with a military deadlock and a nuclear balance of terror."

Anthony Wedgewood Benn spoke to some 3,000 members of the International Platform Assn. on "What Next in the Cold War?" He said the nuclear arms race presents a threat to both Russia and the United States and now other countries are preparing to develop their own atomic and hydrogen bombs.

"The task of statesmen must be to find a common interest for both Russia and America and bring about some controlled system to relax tensions," Benn said.

He said he felt it is "reasonable to expect freedom to prevail in any period of coexistence, but if we are to coexist we must make a new diplomatic initiative.

"Like the men in the lifeboats, we must have a common interest of survival."

Benn is in Ohio to visit his wife's parents in Cincinnati.

Woman Hurt In Rush To Leave Transit Car

CLEVELAND (A,)—A 21-year-old Cleveland woman suffered possible back and shoulder fractures Wednesday night in a rush to get out of a Cleveland Transit System car that was showering electrical sparks on the 51 persons aboard.

Mrs. Frank Mullins fell when getting off the car's exit that is designed to open only at a platform.

A company spokesman said an object was thrown off the East 93rd St. Bridge, cutting a 600-volt cable used to run the rapid train. The current formed an arc and cut through the roof of the car. Sparks showered for a moment and passengers scrambled for doors and windows.

Three other persons injured were treated and released from St. Luke's Hospital.

Flag Raising Ceremony To Be Held By Firemen

A 49-star flag presentation and raising ceremony will highlight the carnival of the Liverpool Township East volunteer firemen Friday at 8 p. m. at the fire station in Dixonville.

American Legion Post 374 will give the flag. The carnival began Monday and lasts through Saturday at the ball field in Dixonville. A matinee for children will be held Saturday from 1 to 5.

Firemen will also feature a parade in Dixonville Friday at 7:30 p. m. Units are now being obtained.

Keith Stevens is carnival chairman.

Head Of Red Party In Ohio Defends Socialistic Principles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Anthony Krchmarek of Cleveland, chairman of the Communist Party in Ohio, says he will continue his efforts to bring socialistic principles to the government of this country "by orderly process."

Charges of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the U. S. Government by force were dropped Wednesday in U.S. District Court against Krchmarek and five others. They had been convicted three years ago of violating the Smith Act.

The Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, however, reversed the decision and ordered a retrial. U. S. District Attorney Russell E. Ake said he dropped the charges reluctantly because "we can't meet the requirements set down by the Supreme Court in the Yates case."

In that case the high court held the government must prove in Smith Act prosecutions that persons actively are attempting to overthrow the government. Teaching and advocating overthrow is not sufficient for prosecution, the court ruled.

Krchmarek, 61, said Wednesday night that, while the Communist Party of Ohio, does not maintain an office, he has been devoting all his time to his post as chairman.

"I have a firm belief," he said, "in socialistic principles. I also believe they can be brought about by orderly process."

The others freed Wednesday were Frank Hashmall, 39, Bronx, N. Y., former youth director of the Ohio section of the party; George Watt, 49, also of the Bronx, once the party's national labor secretary; Mrs. Lucille Bethencourt, 31, Chicago, former Lorain party leader; and Joseph Brandt, the party's trade union director.

Cargo Figures Given

CLEVELAND (AP)—Last month 22,031 tons of general packaged cargo moved over Cleveland docks, William J. Rogers, Cleveland port director, reported. That brought the season total to 58,536 tons of packaged cargo, plus thousands of tons of tallow, sulphur, fluorspar and other bulk cargoes handled on local docks. In all of the 1958 season total tonage of all kinds was only 71,121. According to statistics from Miss Albina R. Cermak, U. S. customs collector, 312 ships have called at Cleveland this season so far, compared with 212 in all of last season.

Head Of Red Party In Ohio Defends Socialistic Principles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Anthony Krchmarek of Cleveland, chairman of the Communist Party in Ohio, says he will continue his efforts to bring socialistic principles to the government of this country "by orderly process."

Charges of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the U. S. Government by force were dropped Wednesday in U.S. District Court against Krchmarek and five others. They had been convicted three years ago of violating the Smith Act.

The Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati, however, reversed the decision and ordered a retrial. U. S. District Attorney Russell E. Ake said he dropped the charges reluctantly because "we can't meet the requirements set down by the Supreme Court in the Yates case."

In that case the high court held the government must prove in Smith Act prosecutions that persons actively are attempting to overthrow the government. Teaching and advocating overthrow is not sufficient for prosecution, the court ruled.

Krchmarek, 61, said Wednesday night that, while the Communist Party of Ohio, does not maintain an office, he has been devoting all his time to his post as chairman.

"I have a firm belief," he said, "in socialistic principles. I also believe they can be brought about by orderly process."

The others freed Wednesday were Frank Hashmall, 39, Bronx, N. Y., former youth director of the Ohio section of the party; George Watt, 49, also of the Bronx, once the party's national labor secretary; Mrs. Lucille Bethencourt, 31, Chicago, former Lorain party leader; and Joseph Brandt, the party's trade union director.

Cargo Figures Given

CLEVELAND (AP)—Last month 22,031 tons of general packaged cargo moved over Cleveland docks, William J. Rogers, Cleveland port director, reported. That brought the season total to 58,536 tons of packaged cargo, plus thousands of tons of tallow, sulphur, fluorspar and other bulk cargoes handled on local docks. In all of the 1958 season total tonage of all kinds was only 71,121. According to statistics from Miss Albina R. Cermak, U. S. customs collector, 312 ships have called at Cleveland this season so far, compared with 212 in all of last season.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm in my middle 20s and considered good looking. I've never been able to get a man interested in me until two months ago.

A fellow who came to this town as a regional manager for a big company fell hard and is getting serious. I don't care for him but I've been stringing him along because I haven't got anyone else.

He says he's 31 but he looks older, as he's almost bald. Something is wrong with one eye and he has a peculiar walk. His grammar isn't good, although he seems to be a success in business in spite of it.

He's good-natured, treats me swell, has a nice car and is a big spender. My folks say he's better than nothing. They're afraid this may be my last chance. Do you think if I married him I could learn to like him?—UNDECIDED 26.

Dear Undecided: To steal a few words from Alexander Pope, you have "damned with faint praise—and, without sneering, taught the rest to sneer."

Marriages based on honest enthusiasm sometimes fail. What chance do you think a lukewarm union like this would have? If the best you can say for the guy is he's "better than nothing," do both yourself and him a favor and send him on his way.

Wild Blue Wonder

Dear Ann: I was graduated from high school in June and have a good office job. My folks have always been pretty lenient and I never caused them any trouble. Now we're having a disagreement and I need outside help.

There's an air base near our town and I've met some nice fellows from there. A few have asked me out. Mother says, "You can't go with a service man. They are the scum of the earth. No decent girl would be seen with one of those tramps."

How about this?—LOLLIE.

Dear Lollie: It's unfair of your mother to lump all service men together and label them "tramps." There are tramps in the service, naturally, but there are also tramps on campuses, in offices and aboard fancy yachts.

I agree you ought not to date strangers. But if the young man is introduced through a friend you should be permitted to invite him to your home, where Mom can judge him as an individual.

Bovine Beauty

Dear Ann: I've been married 22 years and have no problems. However, there's a situation in our immediate family which I think needs straightening out.

My brother married a lovely girl who is 5 feet 10 inches tall. She's attractive and makes a striking appearance. My brother is 6 feet 3 so they are a stunning couple.

My mother likes this girl but she always refers to her as "that big cow." Naturally, not to her face.

I'm afraid one day this nickname will get back to her and there'll be hard feelings. Mom insists it's a term of affection. How about it?PATTI.

-:-

Dear Patti: "That big cow" is hardly a term of affection. The fact that your mother uses this name only behind the girl's back is conslusive evidence. I suggest she find an udder name.

Confidentially

TO OFF-THE-HOOK: There is no statute of limitations on a guilty conscience. Pay the man. You'll feel better.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Carnegie Library Acquires Books About Science, Religion

Those who have always been intrigued with the relationship between science and religion will be delighted with Arthur Koestler's "The Sleepwalkers," Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said. He has used as his subtitle, "A history of man's changing vision of the universe." He traces the development of scientific thought from Phythagoras to Newton. In his epilogue he ponders the conservatism of modern science and claims that in frequently produces intellectual frustration and spiriutal starvation. "Exact science has certain overspecialized developments like the giraffe's neck," he says.

Few stories in human history are as stormy and stirring as histories of religion. Paul Hutchinson, formerly editor of Christian Century, and Winfred E. Garrison, professor at the University of Chicago, combined forces to write "Twenty Centuries of Christianity."

"Elizabeth Goudge, an established novelist, has written a biography of one of the greatest saints of the early Christian church, Saint Francis of Assisi. In "My God and My All" the author says that his life tells what it is to be a Christian and what it costs.

Two magnificent pictorial volumes on display this week are worth a special visit to the library. A professor at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, George Ernest Wright, has prepared a handmaiden to history, "Biblical Archeology." It is enhanced with 220 illustrations, detailed drawings, photographs, reconstructions and maps. Especially interesting are the details given regarding Solomon's Temple. To prove that there are links between architecture and philosophy, Harold Busch and Bernd Lohse secured a remarkable set of pictures on the buildings of Europe during the Middle ages when Europe was a single cultural entity. The title is "Gothic Europe."

A Western Theological Professor, Walter L. Clyde, believes that the two major divisions of Christendom understand too little of each other. To this end he has just published a volume called, "Interpreting Protestantism to Catholics." He explains the many beliefs which the two groups share and the reasons for some of their basic differences, particularly regarding marriage customs.

An editor and journalist for the U. S. Office of Education, Olga Jones writes of a spiritual pilgrimage to the 15 "Churches of the Presidents" in Washington. She reports that Washington's Bible is now valued at $100,000.

Tying in with the current emphasis on Africa in mission study is an extraordinary book brimming with fine photographs — "Primitive Peoples Today" by Edward Weyer. Though the book includes tribes which inhabit the entire world, the three chapters on Africa are most striking. The library will also have several filmstrips on Africa for study groups. A film on jungle life in Africa will be available for use on 16mm. projectors in September and October. Later in the year, a movie on "The Unions of South Africa" can be secured at the library.

Two biographies of outstanding minds are on this week's new shelf. Bertrand Russell recalls his search for certainty starting when he was only 16 in "My Philosophical Development." The former president of Bernard College in New York, Virginia Gildersleeve, writes her memoirs in "Many a Good Crusade."

A pair of reference books of value to religous researchers are H. A. Treble's "Classical and Biblical Reference Book" and Dagobert D. Runes' "Concise Dictionary of Judaism."

To brighten up a dull program there are two new volumes of poems suited for reading aloud. Nick Kenny, well known through radio and TV, seems to be an adequate successor to Edgar Guest in his "Poems to Inspire." From 19th Century Russia there are romantic lyrics, "The Wagon of Life."

Bank Group Reports $143,611 Paid In Tax

Banks in Columbiana County paid a total of $143,611 in taxes during the current year for deposits, according to the Ohio Bankers Association. The figure is based on a report released by the Ohio Department of Taxation.

The monies are the state's tax on bank deposits which are paid by the individual bank rather than the depositor. The money is returned by the state for use by local government units.

The banks of the county also paid $57,097 in taxes in their own capital stock. This also is returned for local government use.

The total deposits tax paid by all Ohio banks during 1959 amounted to $14,506,248. The total capital share tax paid was $4,540,809.

The United States has 7 per cent of the world's population.

CD Officials Plan City Alert Visit

Lt. Gov. Ted Brown of Columbus and Col. Leo McCarthy of Youngstown, Civil Defense director of the 3rd Area, will visit East Liverpool for an alert Aug. 30 at 2 p. m., Kenneth Long, 5th Platoon leader, announced at a meeting of the 31st Civil Defense Mobile Support Group Tuesday evening.

Some 35 attended the meeting at the Glenmoor fire station. Scout troops 7 and 43 will simulate casualties to be picked up by the Civil Defense team on Annesley Rd. The Winona group will be in charge of the first aid station at the Glenmoor ball park.

All team leaders and active committees will meet Tuesday at the Glenmoor fire station to make final plans.

Fire and rescue trucks will take part in a parade Saturday at Dixonville. Both will leave Glenmoor at 7 p. m. The fire truck will join a parade Wednesday at Girard, leaving here at 5 p. m.

Mass feeding teams will meet every two weeks at Lisbon to make plans for an "open house" at the Civil Defense headquarters there. Next meeting will be Sept. 1.

Reckless Driver Fined

LISBON — Frederick W. Ossmann, 25, of 1311 E. 3rd St., Salem, was fined $25 and costs Tuesday night by Mayor John Todd on a charge of reckless driving. He was cited Monday evening by village police.

He's good-natured, treats me swell, has a nice car and is a big spender. My folks say he's better than nothing. They're afraid this may be my last chance. Do you think if I married him I could learn to like him?—UNDECIDED 26.

Dear Undecided: To steal a few words from Alexander Pope, you have "damned with faint praise—and, without sneering, taught the rest to sneer."

Marriages based on honest enthusiasm sometimes fail. What chance do you think a lukewarm union like this would have? If the best you can say for the guy is he's "better than nothing," do both yourself and him a favor and send him on his way.

Wild Blue Wonder

Dear Ann: I was graduated from high school in June and have a good office job. My folks have always been pretty lenient and I never caused them any trouble. Now we're having a disagreement and I need outside help.

There's an air base near our town and I've met some nice fellows from there. A few have asked me out. Mother says, "You can't go with a service man. They are the scum of the earth. No decent girl would be seen with one of those tramps."

How about this?—LOLLIE.

Dear Lollie: It's unfair of your mother to lump all service men together and label them "tramps." There are tramps in the service, naturally, but there are also tramps on campuses, in offices and aboard fancy yachts.

I agree you ought not to date strangers. But if the young man is introduced through a friend you should be permitted to invite him to your home, where Mom can judge him as an individual.

Bovine Beauty

Dear Ann: I've been married 22 years and have no problems. However, there's a situation in our immediate family which I think needs straightening out.

My brother married a lovely girl who is 5 feet 10 inches tall. She's attractive and makes a striking appearance. My brother is 6 feet 3 so they are a stunning couple.

My mother likes this girl but she always refers to her as "that big cow." Naturally, not to her face.

I'm afraid one day this nickname will get back to her and there'll be hard feelings. Mom insists it's a term of affection. How about it?PATTI.

Dear Patti: "That big cow" is hardly a term of affection. The fact that your mother uses this name only behind the girl's back is conslusive evidence. I suggest she find an udder name.

Confidentially

TO OFF-THE-HOOK: There is no statute of limitations on a guilty conscience. Pay the man. You'll feel better.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Carnegie Library Acquires Books About Science, Religion

Those who have always been intrigued with the relationship between science and religion will be delighted with Arthur Koestler's "The Sleepwalkers," Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said. He has used as his subtitle, "A history of man's changing vision of the universe." He traces the development of scientific thought from Phythagoras to Newton. In his epilogue he ponders the conservatism of modern science and claims that in frequently produces intellectual frustration and spiriutal starvation. "Exact science has certain overspecialized developments like the giraffe's neck," he says.

Few stories in human history are as stormy and stirring as histories of religion. Paul Hutchinson, formerly editor of Christian Century, and Winfred E. Garrison, professor at the University of Chicago, combined forces to write "Twenty Centuries of Christianity."

"Elizabeth Goudge, an established novelist, has written a biography of one of the greatest saints of the early Christian church, Saint Francis of Assisi. In "My God and My All" the author says that his life tells what it is to be a Christian and what it costs.

Two magnificent pictorial volumes on display this week are worth a special visit to the library. A professor at McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, George Ernest Wright, has prepared a handmaiden to history, "Biblical Archeology." It is enhanced with 220 illustrations, detailed drawings, photographs, reconstructions and maps. Especially interesting are the details given regarding Solomon's Temple. To prove that there are links between architecture and philosophy, Harold Busch and Bernd Lohse secured a remarkable set of pictures on the buildings of Europe during the Middle ages when Europe was a single cultural entity. The title is "Gothic Europe."

A Western Theological Professor, Walter L. Clyde, believes that the two major divisions of Christendom understand too little of each other. To this end he has just published a volume called, "Interpreting Protestantism to Catholics." He explains the many beliefs which the two groups share and the reasons for some of their basic differences, particularly regarding marriage customs.

An editor and journalist for the U. S. Office of Education, Olga Jones writes of a spiritual pilgrimage to the 15 "Churches of the Presidents" in Washington. She reports that Washington's Bible is now valued at $100,000.

Tying in with the current emphasis on Africa in mission study is an extraordinary book brimming with fine photographs — "Primitive Peoples Today" by Edward Weyer. Though the book includes tribes which inhabit the entire world, the three chapters on Africa are most striking. The library will also have several filmstrips on Africa for study groups. A film on jungle life in Africa will be available for use on 16mm. projectors in September and October. Later in the year, a movie on "The Unions of South Africa" can be secured at the library.

Two biographies of outstanding minds are on this week's new shelf. Bertrand Russell recalls his search for certainty starting when he was only 16 in "My Philosophical Development." The former president of Bernard College in New York, Virginia Gildersleeve, writes her memoirs in "Many a Good Crusade."

A pair of reference books of value to religous researchers are H. A. Treble's "Classical and Biblical Reference Book" and Dagobert D. Runes' "Concise Dictionary of Judaism."

To brighten up a dull program there are two new volumes of poems suited for reading aloud. Nick Kenny, well known through radio and TV, seems to be an adequate successor to Edgar Guest in his "Poems to Inspire." From 19th Century Russia there are romantic lyrics, "The Wagon of Life."

Bank Group Reports $143,611 Paid In Tax

Banks in Columbiana County paid a total of $143,611 in taxes during the current year for deposits, according to the Ohio Bankers Association. The figure is based on a report released by the Ohio Department of Taxation.

The monies are the state's tax on bank deposits which are paid by the individual bank rather than the depositor. The money is returned by the state for use by local government units.

The banks of the county also paid $57,097 in taxes in their own capital stock. This also is returned for local government use.

The total deposits tax paid by all Ohio banks during 1959 amounted to $14,506,248. The total capital share tax paid was $4,540,809.

The United States has 7 per cent of the world's population.
